JAMES E. WATSON RECEIVES A GREAT OVATION AT SHELBYVILLE

Crowd of Rushville Admirers Makes Trip in Special Train to Help Noise Making.

5000 PEOPLE GATHER IN STREET

Shelbyville Meets Visitors With String of Decorated Automobiles, Bands and Red Fire.

PARADE MADE THROUGH CITY

People Are Turned Away From Hall Seating 1500—Watson Asks Beverage Few Questions.

WATSON DATES.

Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 29, Pendleton.
Tuesday night, Oct. 29, Elwood.
Wednesday night, Oct. 30, Vincennes.
Thursday noon, Oct. 31, Chicago (McVicker's theater.)
Thursday night, Oct. 31, La Porte.
Friday afternoon, Nov. 1, Brookville.
Friday night, Nov. 1, Connersville.
Saturday afternoon, Nov. 2, Greensburg.
Saturday night, Nov. 2, Rushville.

Joined by a crowd of loyal admirers two hundred and fifty strong, James E. Watson went to Shelbyville last night on the special Pennsylvania train which was ordered to take the crowd from here to the Shelbyville meeting, and received the greatest ovation he has received any place this campaign.

The Rushville delegation made a great showing, but Shelbyville was at the station en masse to greet the visitors and welcome them to the city. When the Rushville train pulled into the station a glad sight greeted the eyes of the Rushville people.

There was a string of gayly decorated automobiles extending for four blocks down the street. The machines were wreathed in bunting and flags and displayed pictures of Taft and Watson, and people in the machines and standing in the street made the sky glow red with red fire they held in their hands.

With three bands and two drum corps playing all at once, and the Rushville delegation and the Shelbyville hosts shouting, the Rushville people formed in line and marched to the city hall, led by the Rushville concert band. The Shelbyville people fell in behind and made a parade a half mile long.

The streets were lined with people all the way from the station to the city hall. It was estimated that there was a crowd of five thousand people along the line of march and in the big circle in the Shelbyville public square. Seats were reserved for the Rushville delegation else they would never have gained a sight of even the interior of the city hall where the meeting was held.

Every available seat in the room was taken at seven o'clock, an hour before the meeting began. The exits

POLICE SEARCH FOR MAN

Prisoner Escapes From Jail But Didn't Come Here.

The local police received a call from Shelbyville shortly after 9 o'clock last night to be on the watch for Robert Hart, 18 years old who escaped from the jail there early in the evening. Hart was arrested a week ago on a forgery charge and the police in Shelbyville believe he is Orville Hodgson, who is wanted for forgery in Indiana. A description of Hart was sent here but the police failed to get sight of him.

MANSFIELDS HAD A NOTED GUEST

William Burt, D. D. Former M. E. Bishop of European District, Spent Monday in Rushville.

NOW STATIONED AT BUFFALO

The Rev. William Burt D. D., Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, formerly in charge of the European district, with headquarters at Zurich, Switzerland, now stationed at Buffalo, N. Y., was the guest Monday of Consul General and Mrs. R. E. Mansfield of Zurich, who are visiting Mrs. Mansfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Gowdy at their home in North Perkins street. Bishop Burt has had a long and successful career in Europe, where he extended the influence of the church in an educational and spiritual way in many countries. He left last night for Toledo, Ohio, to attend the general meeting of the Bishops.

GLENWOOD REVIVAL WAS POSTPONED

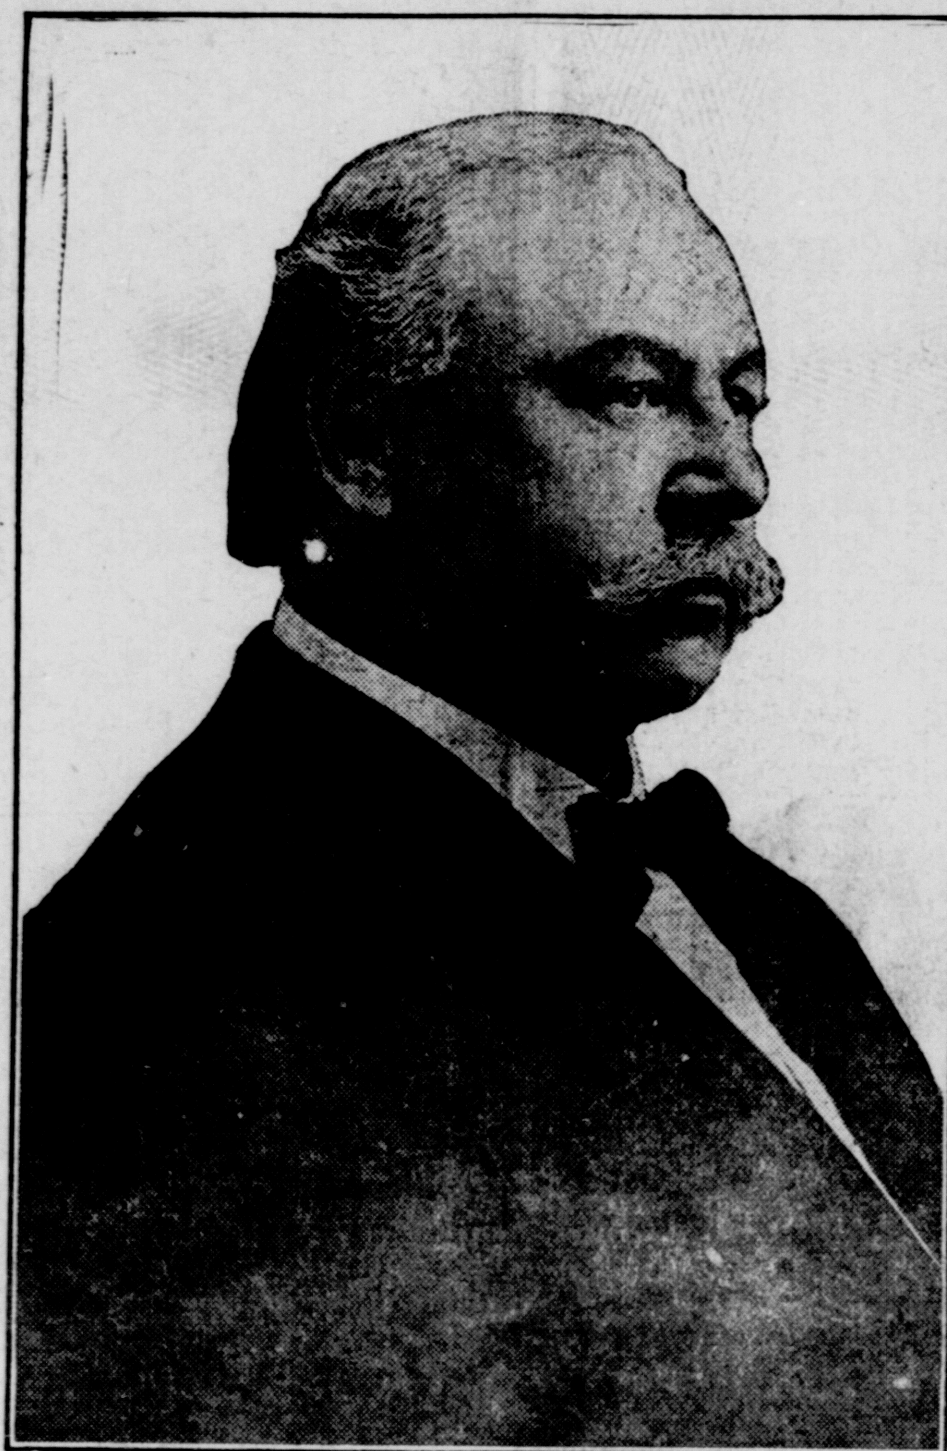

Epidemic of Scarlet Fever Feared There and Action Was Taken By Health Officer.

SCHOOL WAS CLOSED ALSO

By the order of the health officer, the protracted meeting which was to have begun at Glenwood this week, following on the heels of the county wide campaign, has been called off due to the prevalence of scarlet fever in Glenwood. The meeting was to have been a union affair in which all of the congregations in the town were to participate. It was planned to hold it at the U. P. church. Dr. Wheeler, who has been conducting a revival at Milroy, was to be in charge. He was to be assisted by Dr. A. W. Jamieson of the U. P. church here. Miss Parshall of the Biederwolf party was to assist also.

The Glenwood school was closed a few days ago because of scarlet fever in the community.

Republicans There Are Coming En Masse For Torch Light Parade Saturday Night.

THEY WOULD OUTDO RUSHVILLE ARGUES WITH WAR VETERANS

Plans Are Being Perfected For Demonstration And Meeting in Tabernacle Wednesday Night.

Although it had not been learned this afternoon what speaker would be furnished for the Republican meeting to follow the torch light procession here Wednesday night, it is still intended to carry out the original intention. A committee went to Indianapolis in an effort to obtain a speaker.

After the demonstration Wednesday night the Republicans intend their efforts to make the big parade and meeting here Saturday, which will be addressed by James E. Watson, the largest one of the local campaign. A meeting of Republicans will be held at headquarters this evening at seven-thirty o'clock to complete arrangements for the Saturday night event.

The crowd here Saturday night is to be augmented by a delegation from Shelbyville. The downstate boosters are bragging that they will bring a crowd of five hundred people. They will come up on regular train, which arrives a few minutes before seven o'clock, and return on a special train Saturday night.

It is very likely that a number of people will come up from Columbus as the special train will have to be

THREE COMPLETE TICKETS

On County Ballots, Which Were Printed Today.

The work of printing the county ballots for the coming election was started this morning at the Republican plant. The work is being done under the supervision of the board of election commissioners, William E. Wallace and Andy Stiffler watching the work. The county ballots contain only three complete tickets as the Progressive and Socialists did not put out a full county ticket. Reading from left to right the tickets are, Democrat, Republican, Prohibition, Progressive and Socialist. The county ballots are printed on white paper.

BLUE RIDGE MAN PAYS HEAVY FINE

Harley Gillespie is Arrested on Three Charges But He Pleads Guilty to Only Two.

OTHER ONE IS DISMISSED

Chief of Police Manlove was called to Blue Ridge Monday morning to place Harley Gillespie, a well known young man of that town, under arrest on three different charges, says the Shelbyville Democrat. The affidavits were filed in the court of Justice Webb by E. W. McDaniel, the well known attorney of this city, and the trouble started because Gillespie persisted in hunting on Mrs. Emma McDaniel's farm when he had been warned repeatedly to keep off the premises.

The charges were for profanity and trespass and for hunting without a permit on another person's premises. He pleaded guilty to the first two charges and paid fines and costs amounting to $25.55. The other charge will be withheld pending his good behavior.

Gillespie grew very troublesome to the owner of the farm and on last Saturday cursed her when she ordered him from the place.

Chief Manlove made the trip to Blue Ridge with James Hicks in the latter's touring car.

Most Enthusiastic Crowd of Campaign Lingers Long at Farewell Meeting Monday Night.

LIGHTS BURN 'TILL MIDNIGHT

Biederwolf's Attempts to Close Meeting Foiled by Some One Going Forward.

MANY CONVERSIONS THEN

Little Son is Example to His Father And Leads Him Down the Sawdust Path.

Amid scenes that will live long in memory of the two thousand or more people who were there, the county-wide evangelistic campaign closed at the tabernacle last evening with a farewell meeting.

People who will look back on the five happy weeks at the tabernacle lingered last night for one last look. They loathed to leave the place of trials and tribulations, the scene of many joys and triumphs, the situation which has resulted in approximately two hundred and fifty souls deciding for Christ in five weeks.

The meeting last night was the most enjoyable one which has been held, and coming at the close as it did, it carried with it an atmosphere of sweet sadness—a gladness that Dr. Biederwolf and his party can go on with meetings in the future, a sadness that they have to leave Rushville.

The meeting last night was more than a farewell, it was an inspiration to others to go forward. There was a number of people last night who decided for the Christian life. Several times Dr. Biederwolf started to close the meeting, but each time was halted by the appearance of some one on the sawdust path which leads to the altar down in front. It was almost midnight before the lights in the tabernacle were extinguished.

There was one family which was especially happy last night for every member decided for Christ. And it was the little son that lead this family to the front. The boy was seated in the back part of the building. Faithfully and industriously his youthful friends worked and argued with him to take a stand for Christ. Finally he was persuaded. In the meantime personal workers had been attempting to convince the father, the mother being willing to go down if her husband did. When the boy walked down the sawdust trail, the father could not constrain himself, and he stepped into the aisle, followed by his wife, and the whole family was saved. There were few dry eyes among the people who saw that little undercurrent of human interest and knew what it all meant.

Roy Jones, for whose conversion the personal workers and ministers have been working for days, took advantage of the last opportunity last night to decide for a new life. He asked to make a statement from the platform, and the privilege was granted him. He said that he knew many Christian people had been praying for him and that he appreciated it sincerely. He expressed great gratitude for the help and kindness which had

CONNECTS RYAN WITH PLOTTERS

President of Ironworkers Had Conference With McManigal.

TESTIMONY OF A BOOKKEEPER

Government Introduces Evidence in Trial of Alleged Dynamiters Showing That Chief Destroyer Was Closely Connected With President Ryan at a Time When Explosions Were of Common Occurrence.

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—At the trial in the federal court evidence directly connecting President Ryan of the iron workers with Ortie McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, and with the disbursement of $1,000 per month to men engaged in dynamiting, was given when B. J. Cook, bookkeeper in the headquarters here from July, 1910, to February, 1911, took the stand as a witness. According to his story McManigal visited headquarters on Aug. 25, 1910, and was in conference with Ryan for several hours. Ryan coming out of the room one time and asking if there were any telegrams or letters for McManigal.

Cook also told of a telegram received at headquarters in December, 1910, from H. W. Legleitner, indicted, of Pittsburg, asking McManigal if he could come to headquarters, to which the latter replied, "Come on; will meet you."

When Legleitner reached headquarters he was carrying the odd-shaped telescope used to carry a ten-quart can of nitroglycerine.

"McManigal was a changed man after the Times building was blown up," said Cook. He confined himself in his private office, reading newspaper clippings.

He later went to Ballagh, Neb., Cook said, dressed in a freakish manner, to see his brother, J. B. McManigal, who was hiding at the home of Howard McNabb, a brother-in-law.

Cook told of the "thousand a month" emergency fund from which the government alleges McManigal checked from to pay for dynamitings. He said this account was under the supervision of Frank M. Ryan.

The witness identified the little blue check book used by J. J. McManigal in checking from his personal account in the Columbia National bank. It was from this account that Frank C. Webb, indicted member of the executive board, of New York, received a check for $200 and that Herbert S. Hockin and Howard McNabb received checks. The government alleges that this account was used to pay for some of the dynamitings.

WOMAN DROWNED

Fall in Bathtub Rendered Her Helpless to Save Herself.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 29.—That Mrs. Clarence Rhyen, who was found dead in her bathtub in West Lafayette Saturday, met her death in a most unusual manner, was disclosed at the coroner's investigation. It was supposed she died of heart failure, but the fact has been revealed that when she stepped into the tub she slipped and fell, striking her eye on one of the metal faucets, and this rendering her unconscious, she fell face downward in ten inches of water and was drowned.

LOOKING AHEAD

Evansville Man Fixing Things to Put City on Cash Basis.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 29.—Adolph Melzer, wealthy retired soap manufacturer, has presented to Mayor Heilman and the city council a certificate of deposit for $1,000, which is to remain in bank for 250 years and draw compound interest. At the end of that time it will amount to $19,956,400. The money is to be used two and a half centuries from now for public improvements, which he believes the city will be unable to make from its own money because of debts.

First Degree Murder Charged.

Greenfield, Ind., Oct. 29.—The grand jury returned an indictment for murder in the first degree against Joseph Hicks. Five years ago Hicks shot and killed Oscar Martin while the latter was playing cards in a poolroom at Shirley. He was arrested at Cincinnati two weeks ago.

Fought Duel on Street.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 29.—Tony Danko and Steve Homister fought a duel with stilettos in the streets here and both were badly injured. Danko probably fatally. The trouble is alleged to have occurred over Danko's attention to Homister's niece.

Grover Ensley Acquitted.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 29.—Grover Ensley of Garrett has been acquitted of the murder of Edward McLeod on Aug. 10. Ensley charged McLeod with being intimate with Mrs. Ensley. The state failed to prove that the shooting was premeditated.

Hebron Postoffice Robbed.

Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 29.—Burglars forced an entrance to the postoffice at Hebron, dynamited the safe and obtained $10 in cash and $150 worth of stamps and money order blanks.

NEW LAWS TO COVER ELECTION CAMPAIGNS

Remedial Legislation Suggested By Inquiry.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Though no program of legislation has yet been decided on by the Clapp committee of the senate, members have several reforms in mind. Among the recommendations that they will make are the following:

Prohibition of contributions by any "trust," large or small, or any corporation to presidential, senatorial or congressional campaign funds.

Prohibition of large "individual" contributions to such campaigns from any officer or director of any corporation.

Publication of campaign receipts by all candidates, including presidential, to occur four times during and thirty or sixty days after the nomination or primary campaign and during or after the general election.

Limitation of the size of contributions from individuals—some senators favor $10,000 as the limit, others favor $5,000.

Publication of how every cent in any campaign was spent—the names of recipients and detailed explanations of the purposes—twice during the primary and general election campaigns.

Prison sentences as well as heavy fines for campaign officials who break the law.

Adjustment of the law so as to cover both the convention and primary nominating systems for presidential and all other candidates.

To impose on each presidential candidate knowledge of the amount and sources of his financial support by requiring the candidate's certification to the statement of his finances.

To require not only national campaign managers, but state, federal and even ward or precinct managers to report the money received or spent.

Strict accounting of all campaign promises of appointments or political rewards.

One member of the committee has suggested the possibility of the creation of a federal bureau of elections to supervise the administration of a federal corrupt practice act.

Canadian Soldiers in Wreck.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—A Chicago flyer on the Canadian Pacific collided head-on at Streetsville Junction, twenty-two miles west of here, with a troop train of volunteers returning from a sham fight at Milton. O. P. Overman of Knightstown is visiting Jesse Henley and family and Frank Overman and family.

Howard Kizer was at home from Indianapolis Sunday.

Leonard Ruby was at home from Purdue from Friday until Monday.

Miss Myrtle Taylor and Miss Bessie Addison, of Arlington, were guests of Miss Mabel Gotschel of Lewisville Saturday and Sunday.

Sunday proved to be a good day for Carthage. At the meeting Saturday night Mr. Bursk announced there would be prayer meeting Sunday morning from seven to eight o'clock, union service at eleven o'clock, meeting at three o'clock and at seven-thirty. These meetings were well attended, especially the evening service.

Rev. Hamilton and workers deserve much praise for the good that they did during the four weeks. Fifty-seven were brought to Jesus Sunday night, adjourning after twelve o'clock. Homer Welch, the singing evangelist, left Monday morning for his home at Grove City, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton spent Monday in Rushville, as did many other Carthage people.

Mrs. T. A. Town, 107 6th street, Watertown, S. D., writes: "My four children are subject to hard colds and I always use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound with splendid results. Some time ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and the doctor prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and it soon overcame the la grippe. I can always depend upon Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and am sure of good results." F. B. Johnson & Co.

Taft as a Politician.

It is sometimes said of President Taft, as if it were a reproach, that he is no politician. This or that failure to estimate popular temper, to be skilful in cajolery of some prevailing whim, is assigned as a reason for destruction.

And yet, is this a year when people are looking for skillful politicians? Are they not rather out of date in the popular mind? Don't they rather want men of the business type, who devote themselves to efficiency without grand stand plays?

So it seems to many people. One of the principal bases of the Bull Moose campaign is denunciation of politicians and bosses. And yet, is there a more adroit politician than the Big Bull Moose? Is there a man in the country who looks more at questions from a non-political business view-point than Mr. Taft?

Mr. Taft has a way of going ahead with what he believes to be right regardless of popular clamor. From the older view-point, that is not good politics. The politician of yesterday always kept his ear very close to the ground. If he heard a passing step, he thought it was the armies of the people, and he took to his heels for the tall timber.

A man of that type gets little done. He is so intent on the veering currents of opinion, that he cannot stick to any one program long enough so that the voters become interested in it.

Mr. Taft has accomplished a large volume of liberal and useful legislation. He is not a good advertiser. He needs a press agent. But simply by saying nothing and saving word, he has got a lot of good things done, devoting a lot of time to studying the needs of the people, and very little to caucusing with politicians. Is not that the type of man you pick when you have any big job to be done?

As to War Veterans.

Every old soldier will remember the attitude of the Democratic party toward the veterans of the Civil war when it was last in power. Hundreds of bills granting pensions to deserving soldiers were angrily vetoed by President Cleveland, and no consideration whatever was given to the fact that the old soldiers, now decreasing in number by reason of deaths, are facing an old age which makes it impossible for them to labor.

The Democratic party came into power in the house of representatives two years ago. It insisted upon the abolition of all the pension agencies in the United States and so the pension appropriation bill was not passed until August 15th, more than ten million dollars being withheld from hundreds of thousands of aged, infirm and needy survivors of the Civil war and their dependents for nearly two months.

In order that pensioners might get their money, even after long delay, the senate was finally compelled to yield to the Democratic policy of abolishing pension agencies. President Taft was forced to sign the bill for the same reason. The attitude of the veterans toward this Democratic blow at the pension system is shown in a resolution adopted by the Grand Army of the Republic at the national encampment at Toledo. This declares that the abolition of the agencies would work inconvenience and hardship to the aged and infirm survivors of the Civil war and their dependents. There is no doubt that if a Democratic president should be elected, together with a Democratic congress, further legislation adverse to the old soldiers would be adopted.

Speaking of "straw ballots," St. Louis has just taken one on a somewhat extensive scale. The Republican

Sam Sanderson Says:

That the good old days of torch light parades are not over yet.

City Club has just taken a complete poll of the city and it shows that there are 146,419 voters of whom $5,580 are for Taft for President. This gives a clear Republican lead of some 25,000 votes in St. Louis at this time and the ranks are steadily gaining.

The British Board of Trade report places the average wages of the American bricklayer at from $26.77 to $30.42, while the average in England is but from $9.12 to $9.85. Not much use in low free trade prices on that basis.

A manufacturer from a neighboring city, while here, was asked by a Rushville attorney if the laboring men in his city were satisfied.

"It's just a question as to which job they take," was the terse way he answered the question.

During the last Democratic administration the working man could buy a pretty good suit of clothes for $8, but he did not have the price. Under Republican rule since the worker has been buying $25 suits of clothes—and he has the price.

The farmer should reflect that when the factory is closed by free trade, not merely does he lose a market for his products, but he must meet the competition of a lot of men who will go to farming.

During the last Democratic administration, Mr. Cleveland had constantly to borrow money, pay bankers a rake-off for it, and pay interest on the debt. Now Uncle Sam is a lender rather than a borrower.

The New York World says it is not the custom of the country to turn down an administration in a year of great prosperity, and this year will be no exception to the rule.

The roll of "assistant Democrats" is not pleasant one for life-long members of the Republican party.

Editorialettes

Two bands and a drum corps make a pretty good crowd at that.

We'll wager a good pawpaw that there is one place in the United States where no Democratic votes will be cast.

Guess again!

Our fathers were willing to give up homes and families and go to war for the country, but the modern business man cannot be expected to spend 15 minutes a day studying up on the issues of good government.

WATSON RECEIVES GREAT OVATION AT SHELBYVILLE

and entrances to the building were black with humanity clear out into the streets even after the Rushville crowd was seated. The stage was crowded with people and others stood in every available place in the theater. When James E. Watson appeared on the stage, he was given a rousing greeting such as is seldom ever accorded a public man, even when he is a candidate for office. During his speech he was frequently interrupted by cheers and deafening applause.

It was a typical "Jim" Watson speech. The eloquent Indian was at his best. It was a crowd of his home folks principally and he seemed to realize that they had come back to his own. People were there not only from Shelbyville and Rushville but from many other points in eastern Indiana.

And "Jim" sent them all away smiling and happy, resolved to mark the single once more when they go into the election booths one week from next Tuesday.

Rounded periods of eloquence, appeals of the same judgment of men and shafts of sarcasm that would penetrate the skin of rhinoceros followed in rapid and easy succession as only Watson can make them follow, and a conservative, well regulated ted crowd was turned into an applauding, cheering throng before the meeting was half over.

Mr. Watson devoted the first part, in reality the greater part, to the discussion of the tariff, the same old issue, and the real issue which divides the Republican and Democratic parties. He reviewed the conditions of the Cleveland panic and compared wages and conditions then with now, and the audience, which was composed largely of men, showed its approval of his sentiments, by applauding vigorously every few minutes.

"I am in favor of progress," continued Mr. Watson. "But some people don't know the difference between progress and motion. There is too much muckraking in this country, too much calling a man a liar, crook, and thief who doesn't agree with you."

"Pass prosperity around," cries Mr. Beveridge. How? How can we pass it around more than it has been passed. We cannot make people equal physically, intellectually, or morally by statute, because God has willed otherwise. We can only give them equal opportunities to develop their own characters.

Mr. Beveridge in one speech promises to despoil the Egyptians to get for the common people yachts and automobiles, palaces by the sea, purple and fine linen and retinues of servants. If everyone gets these who will act as the servants?

"The twang on the heartstring of envy! That is what is affecting us, when a democrat gets it he thinks it is political economy. When a bull moosers gets it he thinks it is inspiration from heaven and commences to sing 'Onward Christian Soldier.'

"Child labor. How beautifully Mr. Beveridge talks about it. And yet we have had a child labor law in Indiana for thirty years. All states have them but the cotton states of the south. There is not one case of child labor in Indiana and I defy Mr. Beveridge to produce one. We passed a child labor law in the District of Columbia, a model. We put it through while Mr. Beveridge was away making speeches or resting in his palace by the sea.

"He talks of free books. We have them. Any man who too poor to buy can get them, and clothing for his children too. I am not in favor of buying school books for my neighbor who has four times as much money as I have. Are you?

"Mr. Beveridge raves about the road tax. He wants it paid in instead of worked out. And he would destroy the Republican party which has so honored him for a chance on the road tax law.

"I am in favor of woman's suffrage if they are sure they want to vote. But I am not in favor of the immoral woman in the city leading her forces to the polls while the old gray haired mother in the country remains by her fireside. If the women vote, then they must all vote. Everyone who can vote should exercise that privilege."

In closing, for the hour was growing late, Mr. Watson reviewed briefly the Republican national convention, explaining only the Indiana and Texas delegates-at-large cases. He referred briefly to all of the trust magnates who are contributing to Roosevelt's campaign and showed that they were inspired to do because of their desire to defeat Pres. Taft who had prosecuted them.

He spoke of the let-the-people-rule party, the party which began with the bosses and went down to the people instead of vice versa. He recalled that Ed Lee had been appointed State chairman, he in turn had appointed the district chairmen who selected the county chairman.

PARTY SCATTERED OVER THREE STATES

Dr. Biederwolf And Three Workers go to Grand Rapids, Mich., For Week's Meeting.

THEIR SERVICES ARE DONATED

The Biederwolf evangelistic party will be scattered over three States by tomorrow. Dr. Biederwolf, his assistants, E. C. Miller, William McEwan, choir leader and soloist and James Heaton, second tenor, left today for Grand Rapids, Mich., for a week's meeting at a Rescue mission. They will begin tomorrow night. The services of the party will be donated to the work in the slums of the city. All of the collections that are taken will be turned back to the mission.

Don Cochran, the custodian of the tabernacle, will leave tomorrow for Hamilton, O., where a five weeks' campaign will be started a week from tonight. He will oversee the work of building the tabernacle which will seat 5,000 people. Miss Parshall, who intended to take part in the Glenwood meetings, went to Spiceland for a week's rest at the sanitarium there.

AMUSEMENTS

The Princess offers a Biograph feature drama "With the Enemy's Help" for the first picture tonight. It is a story taken from life and shows Mary Pickford in the leading part. "Her adopted Father" is the title of a powerful Essanay drama. Thursday night, the great base ball drama, featuring Rube Marquard the famous New York pitcher, will be shown. The scenes are laid at the Polo grounds in New York city and it is said to be a remarkable production.

The Palace has an added attraction tonight in Mlle La Belle, the famous mentalist. Mlle La Belle on her last appearance here created a furor by her wonderful exhibitions of mind reading and is said to have improved greatly since then. Besides Mlle. La Belle the usual two reels of pictures will be shown. "The Diamond Path" is a Rex drama featuring Marion Leonard. "The Sheriff and the Girl" is a Nestor western picture. The Mentalist will give a special entertainment tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock for women only and will appear at the regular performance Wednesday night.

The Rev. Oldham, pastor of the Milroy Christian church is recovering from a bad case of blood poison following the removal of a growth from his nose, and was able to attend the church convention here yesterday.

TAFT WOULD BE ELECTED

beyond any question if Theodore Roosevelt had not divided the Republican party when he failed to receive the presidential nomination.

The party was good enough for Roosevelt until Taft was nominated. Now he is trying to wreck it. His present position is a combination of selfish ambition and personal spite.

Why should you desert the party which has done so much for the country and thus given you a share in prosperity and progress?

been shown to him in leading him into a new life.

The musical program was a long and varied one last night, and was so popular with the audience that the musical program did not close until 8:45 o'clock. The choir was augmented by people who have been singing in all of the dozen or more tributary meetings over the county so that the choir box was almost full.

The evangelists and their singers from the county meetings were present, as were people from all the churches. McEwan and Houston, who sang Sunday night, sang another duet last night, and the applause was so insistent that they had to sing again in order to satisfy the crowd. The visiting evangelistic singers formed a double quartet which sang very beautifully.

Dr. Biederwolf was presented with $977, the total amount raised Sunday for his services here. It represented the free will offering of the people of Rushville as a token of esteem and gratitude.

Dr. Biederwolf thanked Rushville people copiously. He heaped praise on all the people, organizations and institutions that had given so kindly and generously of their time and energy to the undertaking. He thanked the choir, the ushers, the doorkeepers, the band, the orchestra, the persons who donated flowers Mothers Day, the contributor to the offering and all who helped. He also included the press.

Although noticeably fatigue because of the day of work and strain, Dr. Biederwolf preached an inspiring sermon, urging the new converts to be true to the vows they had taken, and appealing to the church people to put their arms about them and help them.

Dr. Biederwolf preached a sermon to three kinds of people. The first were to those who had come out for God during these meetings. He advised them to study the Bible, not to forget to pray, to solve all doubts by giving God the benefit of the doubt and to join some church. He admonished the church people to take care of these converts and to see that they were not led astray by their example. The third sermon was to those who had not made any decision yet, and at his close, there occurred those scenes of intense interest.

SO MUCH MONEY.

Muncie Press: It looks a little strange that the Wall street friends of Mr. Beveridge felt in 1904 that it was going to take so much money to elect Senator Beveridge. And the senator says he kept the money several weeks and then returned it, with a gushing letter of thanks! It seems that enough of the money contributed by Perkins and the rest had reached the state committee direct to make the use of the personal contributions unnecessary.

CAN'T CORNER SUPPLY.

Muncie Press: No political party can corner the supply of human sympathy or the demand for social justice. Any party that pretends to be doing this is trying to fool the people. The past quarter of a century has witnessed the enactment of hundreds of laws which represent the spirit of social justice, and these have largely been the fruit of statesmanship in states dominated by the Republican party.

FOR PROTECTION AND PROSPERITY.

Your vote on Tuesday, November 5, for the Republican ticket is a vote for protection and prosperity. It is also a vote for the preservation of constitutional government.

A vote for the Democratic ticket is a vote for free trade, with legislation that will place farm products on the free list and will adversely affect practically every industry in the United States.

A vote for the Third Term ticket is worse than a wasted vote. Roosevelt cannot possibly be elected and a vote for him aids in the election of the Democratic candidate.

M'VAY WRITES OF WATSON MEET

Former Rushville Man, Now in Richmond, Says Large Audience There Was Enthusiastic.

RUDDOLPH LEEDS HIES AWAY

Says Watson's Speech Was by Far Best of Any of Campaign in Wayne.

Will McVay, formerly of Rushville but now a resident of Richmond, writes the Daily Republican of the Watson meeting in Richmond last Saturday night. He says that the immense coliseum in Richmond was filled and that the audience was enthusiastic.

The report of the meeting published in two Bull Moose Richmond newspapers is so biased and prejudiced that no part of the speech is given. The report in each newspaper is merely a tirade against Watson. But with all the Richmond newspapers could do to lessen the crowd with the predictions that few people would want to hear Watson, and with their attacks on him, the meeting was a success, according to Mr. McVay, who writes:

James E. Watson spoke to an enthusiastic audience here Saturday night, the coliseum being filled and many standing.

He gave them facts and unanswerable arguments straight from the shoulder. He talked for two hours and a half, and when at the end of two hours he said he would stop, a chorus of voices said, "go on, Jim." Landis spoke here Friday night and dealt in glittering generalities, sarcasm and abuse of Taft, but gave no valid reasons for voting for Teddy.

Watson's speech was by far the best during the campaign, and will do lots of good. As to the two speeches, Watson's worst enemy would have to admit that he had the best of it on a ratio of 100 to 1.

Watson paid his respect to Rudolph, the millionaire kindergarten editor, but that famous chairman of the "B. M." in this district had left, with his hired hand, a short time before.

He also called the turn on on A. Jeremiah Beveridge, who has been allowing the understanding to go over the country that he worked his way through college, by saying it was not true, as they were there at the same time, and that Beveridge's father paid his way, just as his father paid for him.

Watson said at the close that he guessed he might be safe on the streets of Richmond even at night.

He received an ovation on his first appearance, that any man would be proud of, and it must have warmed his heart. It showed mighty clearly that he has a host of good, loyal friends here regardless of what the two papers here try to make it appear.

Mrs. Jerusha Nadal of Milroy was notified Saturday of last week of the birth of an eight pound boy to her son, Prof. T. A. Nadal and wife at their home in Olivette, Michigan, and feels greatly honored at being called grandmother.

WHAT A DEMOCRATIC VICTORY WOULD MEAN.

The abolition of the protective tariff or the substitution for it of a tariff for revenue only, as proposed by the Democratic platform, would plunge this country into the most widespread industrial depression we have yet seen, and THIS DEPRESSION WOULD CONTINUE FOR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD.

From Theodore Roosevelt's Confession of Faith delivered at Chicago, August 6, 1912, before the Progressive national convention.

The Women's Candidate

By BYRON WILLIAMS

CHAPTER XI.

After spending a day with a winsome woman reading Lucille, it is either the hand of Fate or the intentional prank of a witch that sends the same man canoeing with a decidedly pretty girl of the same name!

Lucille Walters was a leader at Vassar and popular at Squirrel Inn, where her personality was predominant and pleasing. To none but Jackie Vining need she yield the palm of favor and of attractiveness.

Upon Mayor Bedight Miss Walters tried all her wiles. In a sworn compact with the "Judge" she sought by every means in conformity with lady-light alluring to bring him some little slip that would throw light upon his clandestine meetings—but Bedight baffled her at every clever thrust. She came home at night only to admit her defeat.

"He is charming—and decidedly adept at fencing," was the verdict Miss Walters rendered to her chaperone.

And on the pinnacle of this it happened!

Jackie Vining and Lucille Walters, star gazing, beheld the rascally Bedight enter the arbor. A half hour later the figure of a woman emerged from the trying place. For a time the two stood in the arbor entrance. The arm of the mayor was about her. Then their lips met in a lingering caress and the girl glided across the lawn as on that other night when Jackie had beheld a like tableau. Undoubtedly the woman was one of them—but which one?

Miss Vining's anger and contempt for men in general and Bedight in particular ran high.

"But," protested Miss Walters, "perhaps his intentions are perfectly honorable and possibly right here under our noses a romance has budded and blossomed."

"But—but—" protested the Honorable Jack, stopping herself just at the point of confessing what Bedight had said to her that night on the dock. "I—he said the girl was doing no harm—and—"

"Don't be silly, Jackie," pricked Miss Walters. "It isn't wrong to kiss one's sweetheart."

But Jackie was unappeased. She felt that Bedight was a deceiver, for try as she would, she could not justify his words to her with his act at the arbor. The danger to the girls under her protection was imminent. The whole affair had been a travesty at best, and she was unwise to continue it longer. But what method of procedure was best? Jackie thought seriously for an hour. Then she summoned an attendant from the office and gave him a message. Having done this she retired.

Mayor Bedight was still up at midnight when a woman glided down the hallway and tapped gently at his door. It was opened from within and the girl closed it behind her.

"Walter!" she cried, excitedly. "Jackie Vining has sent help to the sheriff. I just learned it. It's almost time for him to arrive. You must act quickly. The letter with the bill inside is still unsealed on her dresser."

I tried to get it but failed. You must—

"All right, Bess," replied the mayor, patting the girl on the shoulder. "I'll act—and I want to say right here that you're a trump card. It's up to your Uncle Dudley to buy you a new seal-skin when we meet in Chicago."

The mayor was moving lively, throwing his few effects into a suitcase.

"I'm ready, Bess," he said hurriedly. "While I'm trying to turn this trick, you slip out and see if Briggs is waiting. It's an hour too soon, but he may be there. Good-by, little girl, Mum's the word," giving her a loving hug.

The mayor sped down the hall to Jackie Vining's room.

"Gad," he ejaculated, "this is a rum thing I've got to do—but everything is fair in love and politics—and this is both."

Taking a key from his pocket, Bedight slipped it softly into the door. The lock yielded. Cautiously he opened the door and entered the apartment of the "Judge." A high-low incandescence was burning with the dim light on, and in the glow Bedight's eyes surveyed the apartment carefully. As his eyes swept the room, he sought to locate two objects of intense interest—the dresser, on top of which was supposed to lie the letter containing the bill, and Jackie Vining! They were both in evidence, the one in the farther corner of the room, the other in her bed asleep, her round arms thrown upward about her face, her beautiful hair in a braid that fell across the white linen like a rope of gold. Beside the bed on a chair lay a pile of filmy lingerie, and on top of the heap a pair of black silk hose.

Bedight, fascinated, turned his face away. Even a political career would scarce excuse a man for such an intrusion.

"But she will never know," flashed through Bedight's mind as he slipped quietly across the room to the dresser. Yes, the package was there—and unsealed. Hastily slipping the envelope off, he tucked the bill away in his pocket. From a second pocket he brought out another manuscript and substituted this for the one he had lost on the morning of the run through the swamp. He did not read the letter, returning it with the manuscript to the envelope. Wetting the muck-lage, he closed and sealed the letter and laid it back on the dresser. Turning to go, his eyes fell upon the face of the sleeper. How beautiful she was—and how unreasonable. For the merest second he hesitated opposite the lacy couch of his lady's dreams—but the moment was fatal.

By some strange freak of fate the high-low light, feeling an impulse of fresh current, automatically shifted from low to high. The brilliant glare fell directly in the girl's face. She stirred, opened her eyes and would have screamed but for Bedight's presence of mind. Springing forward, he spoke her name, muffling her startled ejaculation with his hand, gently laid across her lips.

And then as her eyes blazed like torches with their outraged fires, he dropped to his knees beside the bed and said softly:

"You will never forgive me for this—and I do not blame you. But some day you will understand. I have done nothing at Squirrel Inn to make a gentleman blush for shame—except this—and I had to do it. I thought I could—could say good-by without awakening you. I am going now. When first we met, you gave me a kiss—or if you please, I stole it. In going I am giving in return my heart, and taking as the sweetest memory of my life this last good-by!"

Bowing his head over the face of the half stupefied girl, he touched his lips to hers reverently—and slipped from the room.

As he did so a piercing shriek arose. The "Judge" was coming to her own. It was answered from below.

Bedight, scudding along the hall, heard the answering cry and knew the sheriff had arrived. Exit from the hotel by way of the staircase was out of the question. He darted to Bess Winter's room, tried the door and breathed a sigh of relief as it yielded. From the room a veranda opened and from the floor of the veranda to the ground was not too much of a drop for an agile man. Bedight hung for a moment on the rail. Then he let go, landing almost in the arms of an officer, evidently more surprised than the mayor, who, quicker of action, pushed the deputy headlong and fled from the scene with speed that would do credit to Jackie Vining.

Down the gravel walk sped Bedight, toward the main road. Already the officer had regained his feet and given the alarm. The mayor heard a call for help, a hurried explanation, and then footfalls in pursuit. Down the road he ran toward the shadows of the trees along the highway.

If Briggs was there and ready, he would get away in time. Something loomed black in the shadows ahead. It was the car! Bedight called as he ran—but Briggs was too surprised to heed.

"Crack the car!" cried the mayor excitedly, dashing up to the machine. But the pursuers were upon them as the bewildered Briggs sprang to the wheel. The mayor turned and struck blindly at the sheriff in the lead, whirled and sprang into the machine. The motor aroused instantly and shot ahead, leaving the enraged pursuers powerless in the road.

CHAPTER XII.

It was 10 o'clock on the evening of the election in Ossian. About the headquarters of Walter Bedight the followers of the victorious representative were clamoring for their chosen leader—and among the voters were innumerable women who had fought shoulder to shoulder with their brothers at the ballot box.

Mrs. Holcomb, the president of the Allied Women's clubs, followed by a bevy of workers, passed through the crowd and sent in her card. The door was opened to admit them.

Bedight came gracefully forward, a smile of welcome upon his face.

"Congratulations, Mr. Bedight," said Mrs. Holcomb, "and let me introduce Miss Vining, of Epworth."

Bedight had not seen her until then, but as his eyes fell upon her his heart leaped as the dry grasses to the shower, as the laughing water to the sunshine. He held out his hand.

"We have met before, thank you, Mrs. Holcomb," she said, the roses mounting to her cheeks, and then the crowd surged in.

"Please don't go," he whispered eagerly to Jackie as he turned to grasp the outstretched hands.

And even as he murmured his thanks to the congratulatory constituency, he pressed a button upon his desk. An attendant answered. He whispered a message, still pressing the hands that met his. The attendant slipped hurriedly away. In a moment the door to a private room opened and Bess Winters flew toward Jackie Vining.

"You dear!" she cried with both arms about the "Judge's" neck—"but I've a confession to make. It was I that Walter met in the arbor. He is my half brother. It was such a lark, and—"

But Miss Vining's face had grown suddenly radiant.

"You awful, awful, trouble-maker!" she whispered, hiding her face against Bess' fair head.

"And that night," breathed Bess as Jackie's face grew scarlet, "Walter went to your room and substituted another bill in favor of woman suffrage for the one opposing it. You mailed it next day! And it turned the tide for him!"

"Oh!" was Miss Vining's not altogether elucidating comment.

"Come into the private office," urged Bess.

An hour later Bedight tore himself

Bedight Hung for a Moment on the Rail.

away from his friends and found them there.

"Excuse me a moment," said the ever tactful Bess, disappearing into the front office. "Somebody's got to do the honors."

Bedight stood facing the girl, who had arisen.

"Can you forgive me?" he pleaded, his eyes striving to gain hers, which were downcast, while the color painted her cheeks as glowing as the pink of a sea-shell.

"You promised," she said deliberately, raising her eyes to his, "to abide by the decision of the court. If you transgressed you were to be fined for life. As 'Judge' of the court, I pronounce you guilty. You may—kiss me again—if you like—for at last I am willing to admit that you were and are a woman's logical candidate."

He drew her to him with a reverential tenderness that thrilled her, and as their lips met in betrothal, the campaign band outside the office struck up the air:

"The Moonlight, the Rose and You."

Day Set for Marriages.

Visitors to the quaint old city of Plougastel, in Brittany, are struck with the fact that all marriages are solemnized in a single day of the year. Why this unusual custom prevails is easily explained. The men are all fishermen, many of them going as far as the Newfoundland banks, and are at home only during a few months in the winter. One day in early February is set apart for the weddings. Little courting is done, but much haggling over the dowry of the girls. They have to bring a certain quantity of linen, chickens, pigs, and vegetables. Frequently a match is broken off because a father refuses to add a sack of potatoes to the dowry. On the day set the inhabitants of the entire region go to Plougastel. The whole population goes to church to hear mass, to take communion. Often 50 or more couples are united on the same day. Bride and bridegroom do not walk together until the ceremony has been completed.

Real Wedding Feast.

The wedding of Abis Horourts, the fifteen-year-old son of the Rabbi at Mielec, with Fraulin Teindel Weiss, who is just seventeen, took place the other day, at the house of the latter's father in Szaploncza, in Hungary. Four thousand guests were invited to the wedding banquet, which was spread in the open air and lasted with intervals for dancing for twenty-four hours. The provisions prepared were sufficient to victual a liner, and included 6 cwt. of beef, 2½ cwt. of veal, 4½ cwt. of fish, 1,120 fowls, 120 geese, 86 turkeys, 1 cwt. of almonds, 2 cwt. of sugar, 1½ tons of flour. The company consumed in drink 150 gallons of red wine, 220 gallons of white wine, 300 gallons of beer, and over 200 of brandy.

Don't Get Up in a Hurry.

Don't jump up the first thing your eyes are open. Remember that while you sleep the vital organs are at rest. The vitality is lowered and the circulation not so strong.

A sudden spring out of bed is a shock to these organs, especially to the heart, as it starts pumping the blood suddenly. Don't be in such a hurry. Stretch and yawn and yawn and stretch. Stretch the arms and legs, stretch the whole body. A good yawn and stretch is better even than a cold bath. Take time. It will keep you young and add years to your life.

HOW TO OUTDO A BUSINESS RIVAL

Get a Conjurer to Cast a Spell Over Him.

THAT'S WHAT THIS WOMAN DID

Now She Hales the Reputed Sorceress Into Court, Alleging That She Paid Something More Than $1,000 for Various Incantations in the Belief That They Would Work to Confusion of Husband's More Prosperous Rivals.

New York, Oct. 29.—For the action of the grand jury Mrs. Margaret Seibel of West New York, N. J., was held, on complaint of Mrs. Ida Schumann, the wife of an undertaker in the community, who charges her with having practiced conjuration, witchcraft, sorcery and enchantment for the purpose of booming Mr. Schumann's business and incidentally making a few dollars for herself.

The scheme by which Mrs. Seibel proposed to give prosperity to the undertaking business of Mr. Schumann was unique. The business, although it was of ten years' standing, had not been lucrative. Mr. Schumann got funerals all right, but it seemed to his wife that something always went wrong and gradually the other undertakers forged ahead. She told Mrs. Seibel about it, she says, and the latter, who is the buxom wife of a laborer, assured her that she had powers that speedily would put Mr. Schumann among the best known undertakers of West New York.

Mrs. Schumann says she fell in with Mrs. Seibel's plan, which had two phases. First she was to get $5 for each spell she cast over any rival undertaker, and gave assurance, says Mrs. Schumann, that immediately she had burned the mystic powder and said the fatal words the business of that particular undertaker against whom they were directed would fall away. In the second place Mrs. Seibel was to work a spell which had no particular reference to the other undertakers, but was to bring good luck to Mrs. Schumann. This spell was to be cast only once a month and for the same price, $5 a spell. Moreover, she was to be paid always in $1 bills and they must be new and crisp.

Mrs. Schumann says she has paid Mrs. Seibel something more than $1,000 for incantations. Mrs. Seibel appeared before Recorder Brewer with her counsel, and for her he waived examination when the complaint had been read. She refused to discuss the matter after these proceedings.

ANOTHER SUIT

Indianapolis Paper on Colonel's List For Action in Libel.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 29.—"I am feeling fine, and it does seem good to get back into the old channels again," was Colonel Roosevelt's vigorous ejaculation to the group of newspaper men gathered in his library last night for the first formal interview which the doctors have permitted him to give since he left the hospital.

His appearance bore out his words. "The broken rib seems to have knitted," he explained, "and I can breathe without pain. But it hurts me to take a deep breath. I couldn't climb any hills."

A new development in the action which Colonel Roosevelt purposes to take against libelous publications was his declaration that his attorneys had been instructed to bring suit against "Clean Politics," a periodical which is published at Indianapolis. The damages asked for are nominal, being $1,000. This and the suit recently brought against "Iron Ore," a Michigan paper, are similar, according to the colonel, and were projected at the same time.

Taft's Travels.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The regular Tuesday cabinet meeting was held at 9 o'clock this morning, two hours earlier than usual, to permit President Taft to leave Washington for New York about noon. Mr. Taft will be the guest of Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee. The president's brothers, H. W. and C. P. Taft, will have dinner with him tonight. Tomorrow he will attend the launching of the new battleship New York at the navy yard and will make a speech at the workmen's dinner at the yard following the launching. He will return to Washington early Thursday morning.

Indiana Crude Oil at $1.02. Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 29.—After eight years of waiting and predicting the price of Indiana crude oil has finally reached $1 a barrel. The price of North Lima has advanced 5 cents a barrel and South Lima and Indiana 3 cents. Mercer oil also went up 3 cents. Prices now are: North Lima, $1.07; South Lima, $1.02; Indiana, $1.02; and Mercer $1.16. Indiana crude oil was last at the dollar mark in November, 1904.

JAMES S. SHERMAN

Vice President of United States
Has Suffered a Serious Relapse.

SHERMAN'S RELAPSE MAY PROVE SERIOUS

The Vice President's Condition Considered Critical.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 29.—It is admitted by his personal friends, for the first time since he was stricken with illness last spring and was compelled to abandon his official duties in Washington, that Vice President Sherman is in an extremely critical condition, and that the outcome cannot at this time be forecasted. Dr. F. H. Beck, the Sherman family physician, stated that the vice president was resting more comfortably than at any time during the preceding twenty-four hours, but there was nothing in the doctor's statement to indicate he regarded his patient's condition as measurably improved since the relapse of a few days ago or that strong hope for the ultimate recovery of Mr. Sherman was warranted.

The physicians have agreed a surgical operation in the vice president's case is imperative, but on account of his weakened condition and the impossibility of administering an anesthetic, an operation cannot be performed at present. The operation, it is believed, is necessary because of the presence of gall stones. Mr. Sherman is also suffering from a heart difficulty, induced by an affection of the kidneys.

TURKS BOTTLED UP BY BULGARS

Moslems Must Either Fight or Surrender.

THEIR FIGHTING SPIRIT GONE

Confirmed Reports Have It That the Disorganized Turkish Army Is Panic Stricken at Continued Successes of Armies of Allies Approaching From the North, and Are in No Condition to Support the Banner of Islam.

London, Oct. 29.—Within sixty miles of Constantinople, the Bulgarian army has flung out across the Oriental railroad that runs into the Ottoman capital, blown up a bridge at Tokerkesshen and destroyed all communication along the road to Adrianople.

It remains for the Turks, now either to fight or surrender. There are some 160,000 of them surrounded by the fighters of the little state in the country between Lule Burgas and Baba Eski, captured by the Bulgars on Saturday.

Not only has their retreat along the railroad been cut off, but Adrianople with its garrison of 60,000 will fall within a few days, according to the opinions of the strategists who have followed this war.

Turkish Troops Demoralized.

The retreat of that garrison in case success again crowns the Bulgarian arms would naturally be in the direction of Demolika to the south, but the crafty Bulgarian generals, foreseeing this, have cut off the Turks from that hope and the garrison would seem to be bottled as neatly as one could wish.

The correspondents at the Bulgarian headquarters say that the heavy losses suffered by the Turks in the fighting round about Adrianople has demoralized the Turks.

The Ottoman is not the fighting man that he used to be, this hand-to-hand fighting on the part of a foe that heretofore he has regarded scornfully and the bewildering precision with which the Bulgarian generals have moved their pawns across the board of a hostile country has broken his spirit. There is a confirmed report that one whole regiment of Turks lay down their arms without firing a shot, at the approach of Bulgarian troops.

The Servian, too, seems to be continued success. The Turks, so it is being shouted through Belgrade, are withdrawing their forces from northwest Albania and are retreating toward Monastir.

The Serbs Pushing Along.

A hundred little Arnaut villages are said to have fallen to the Servians, and the Turkish losses at the fierce battle of Koumanovo grow with the receipt of every dispatch. The Serbs are said to have captured the town of Mitrovitz, the northern terminus of the railroad that runs into Salonika, for which the Servians are struggling. It also is asserted that the Turkish army has fallen back in confusion from Uskub. Tolovo has surrendered. The Turks delivered their arms to the Servians. They kept some 200 rifles back, which the Serbs later seized.

The Bulgar column operating with the Servians in the western part of the peninsula has occupied Istip and threatens to cut off the retreat of the Turks. The Servians say that the Turks killed one another fighting for places on wagons and railroad cars.

There is no word from the Montenegrins hammering away in the region outside Scutari. The Greeks say they are within striking distance of Salonika.

AN EARLY HEARING

Newspaper Appeal Advanced by the Supreme Court.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The supreme court has advanced the cases brought by New York publishers to test the constitutionality of the postal legislation in the last appropriation bill affecting ownership, circulation and advertising matter in newspapers. The arguments will be heard on the merits of the case on Dec. 2. There are two cases, but they will be joined, one involving an injunction which was sought by the Morning Telegraph and the other by the New York Journal of Commerce, both of which were denied by the federal court. The petitions asked that the department of justice officers and the postoffice department officers and agents be enjoined from putting the law into effect.

GENERAL MENOCAL

Candidate for Presidency of Cuba Subject of Death Plot.

CUBAN CAMPAIGN IS FULL OF EXCITEMENT

Plot for Assassination of Conservative Candidate.

Havana, Oct. 29.—Discovery has been made of a plot to assassinate Gen. Menocal, Conservative candidate for the presidency. Captain Ainciarte and some other police officers of Zayaista inclinations were ambushed at a point where General Menocal, riding at the head of a procession, was expected to pass. An unexpected change in the route defeated the conspirators.

General Zayas, the present vice president and Liberal candidate for president, with several Zayaista leaders, had several conferences and the vice president and his colleagues protested to the government heads against the retention of General Monteguido in command of the Cuban armed forces and demanded the reinstatement of Senor Aguirre, the Havana chief of police, whom President Gomez, under pressure from General Menocal, has suspended and replaced with General Mendiola of the regular army.

President Gomez and the Liberal leaders are greatly worried over the report that General Zayas threatens the Liberals with withdrawing his candidacy on election day, Nov. 1, unless General Monteguido is removed from the army and Aguirre is reinstated as the Havana chief of police.

Trouble Is Expected.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Though the situation in Cuba for the moment seems less threatening, officials here are apprehensive as to what may happen after next Friday, when the national elections take place. It is expected that the party declared the loser will not accept the verdict at the polls and will promote disorder on the ground that they were discriminated against in the registration and counting of the votes.

Essie Carter Marries Son of Man Who So Brutally Whipped Her.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 29.—Declaring that he wanted to make reparation for his father's cruelty in whipping the girl, Vogt O. Dozier, son of W. S. Dozier, clerk of the superior court at Dawson, has secured a license to marry Essie Carter, and the two will be married today. Young Dozier has been infatuated with the girl for some time. The elder Dozier tried to separate them, but failed. Then he with several friends dragged the Carter girl from her home in Dawson, stripped her naked and whipped her unmercifully. The girl came near dying from the beating and Dozier's act was bitterly condemned. Recently Essie Carter brought suit in the United States court for $25,000 damages against the elder Dozier, who is wealthy.

When young Dozier applied for the wedding license he said: "My father unmercifully whipped Essie because she loved me. I am going to make reparation by marrying her. Father won't whip her then."

Whelan Charged With Murder. Richmond, Ind., Oct. 29.—Superintendent Gorman of the police department left for Falmouth, Ky., to bring back Samuel Whelan, under arrest there for the murder of Arthur Saunders, colored. In this city, a few weeks ago, Whelan is a white man. At the time of the killing it was said Saunders had been stabbed by a white man. Whelan denies the charge.

Philadelphia Grooms Wilson Warmly. Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—Woodrow Wilson spoke to 26,000 voters within a radius of eighteen miles of Philadelphia's city hall Monday, and wound up last night with the largest meeting of the campaign in this city, when he addressed 17,000 persons in the convention hall.

run back through Shelbyville to Columbus since the latter city is a terminal point where the train is made up.

The sporting blood of the Republicans of Shelbyville and Shelby county is up. They wish to show, as one Republican from there said last night, that they can make as good a showing as this city and county can. James E. Watson has a host of friends and admirers there who are anxious to make the trip here a big success.

That Shelbyville will most likely do that is demonstrated by the manner in which they carried out the meeting there last night. Republicans here were saying today that they would not be outdone in giving a reception to the Shelbyville crowd after that which was given the local people last night. It is expected that a number of automobile owners will decorate their machines and go to the depot to escort the visitors to the city.

More details about the torch light parades this week will be worked out tonight and announced tomorrow. Arrangements will be made for the place for the parade to form.

DEATH RATE IN CITY INCREASES

State Health Board Report Shows

6.2 Per Cent. Per Thousand

For 1912.

COUNTY INCREASE 4.3 PER CENT

Present Population of Rushville Estimated at 4,963, And County At 19,387.

The State Board of Health has issued its monthly bulletin for August, which indicates that the health of the city and county for not only this period was not so good, but also for a corresponding year.

The death rate in the county for the year ending August, 1912, fifteen percent per thousand and the rate for a corresponding period preceeding was 10.7, an increase of 4.3 to the thousand people.

The death in the city for the year ending last August was 21.1 per cent. for the preceeding period immediately before it, 14.9, an increase of 6.2 per cent per thousand.

The bulletin gives Rush county an estimated population of 19,387 for 1912. The total number of deaths reported in the county in August were fifteen, and in August last year there were twenty-two reported. In July of this year there were thirty-three deaths, a falling off in a month of eighteen.

The total number of deaths reported in the county in 1912 up to an including the last day of August was 195, and for the same period in 1911 the total was 139, an increase of 56 in 1912.

During the month of August three children between one and four years of age, one person between fifteen and nineteen years of age and five over sixty-five of age passed to the great beyond. In the city there was one death in August between the ages of one and four years, and none in any other important ages mentioned.

In the county there were ten deaths from important causes in August. There was one from pulmonary tuberculosis, one from measles, one from whooping cough, one from lobar bronchial pneumonia, one from external causes, two from cancer and three from diarrhea and enteritis, the victims being under two years of age.

In the city of Rushville there were only four deaths from important causes. One was from measles, one from whooping cough, one from cancer and one from internal causes.

The population of Rushville for 1912 is estimated at 4,963. The total deaths for August this year were six and for the preceeding month, eight. In 1911 there were nine deaths. The total deaths reported in the city in 1912 up to the last day of August were seventy, and for a corresponding period in the previous forty-nine, an increase this year of twenty-one deaths.

The August death rate per thousand in the city was 14.2 per cent. in July of the same year, 18.9, and in August, 1912, 21.5. The death rate in the city for 1912 until August 31, was 21.1, and for the same period in 1911, 14.9.

Physicians Hopeful After Sherman Passes Healthful Night.

Utica, N. Y., October 29.—Vice-President Sherman passed a restful night and Dr. Peek said this morning that his patient was in better condition than he had been at any time during the last four days. He could not say that the present critical danger had passed, or give any assurance as to what might follow in the case of one so weakened by and suffering with the complications surrounding Mr. Sherman. However, he felt some encouragement.

DEFENDS STATE ADMINISTRATION

admits it. Even our Bull Moose friends do."

Mr. Ralston discussed State issues briefly. He declared the Democratic administration had enacted laws for the benefit and protection of the child and the workaday man.

"And let me pause in this discussion of State issues," said the Democratic nominee, "to call to the attention of your old soldiers that the most wholesome law ever enacted for the benefit of the veterans of the war was passed by the congress due to the steadfast and unflinching support of a Democratic house. If the Democratic party had its way, every old soldier under the flag would receive a dollar a day pension."

"I do not mean to intimate that the old soldier should vote the Democratic ticket. But I do mean that considering what the Democratic party has done for the old soldier, he should consider the intent and past record of the party in this regard fairly and without prejudice as any other man would do and then go into the booth and vote his conviction."

Mr. Ralston came to the defense of the present State administration and declared that it deserved a vote of confidence in the light of its achievements. He pointed out that the Democrats had to maintain two more State institutions now than their Republicans had at an additional annual expense of $175,000. He recalled that the State administration had paid off some of the State debt.

He launched again into the discussion of national issues with the Democratic proverb: "The power to tax is the power to destroy."

"I hope to see the time," continued the nominee, "when no taxes will have to be levied."

Mr. Ralston talked to a crowd of from one thousand to twelve hundred people. There were not many people in from the county, most of the audience being composed of Bull Moosers, Republicans and Democrats of the city.

Mr. Ralston arrived at 1:19 o'clock over the I. & C. and was met at the station by a delegation of citizens. He was taken to a hotel in an automobile to enjoy a light lunch, and then went directly to the tabernacle for the meeting. He was introduced by Lieut. Gov. Hall.

The Rushville concert band, the Arlington band and a drum corps from Raleigh furnished music for the meeting.

- Saturday night, Nov. 2, Rushville.

Joined by a crowd of loyal admirers two hundred and fifty strong, James E. Watson went to Shelbyville last night on the special Pennsylvania train which was ordered to take the crowd from here to the Shelbyville meeting, and received the greatest ovation he has received any place this campaign.

The Rushville delegation made a great showing, but Shelbyville was at the station en masse to greet the visitors and welcome them to the city. When the Rushville train pulled into the station a glad sight greeted the eyes of the Rushville people.

There was a string of gayly decorated automobiles extending for four blocks down the street. The machines were wreathed in bunting and flags and displayed pictures of Taft and Watson, and people in the machines and standing in the street made the sky glow red with red fire they held in their hands.

With three bands and two drum corps playing all at once, and the Rushville delegation and the Shelbyville hosts shouting, the Rushville people formed in line and marched to the city hall, led by the Rushville concert band. The Shelbyville people fell in behind and made a parade a half mile long.

The streets were lined with people all the way from the station to the city hall. It was estimated that there was a crowd of five thousand people along the line of march and in the big circle in the Shelbyville public square. Seats were reserved for the Rushville delegation else they would never have gained a sight of even the interior of the city hall where the meeting was held.

Every available seat in the room was taken at seven o'clock, an hour before the meeting began. The crisis Continued on Page 2.

A description of Hart was sent here but the police failed to get sight of him.

Bishop Burt has had a long and successful career in Europe, where he extended the influence of the church in an educational and spiritual way in many countries. He left last night for Toledo, Ohio, to attend the general meeting of the Bishops.

Epidemic of Scarlet Fever Feared There and Action Was Taken By Health Officer.

SCHOOL WAS CLOSED ALSO

By the order of the health officer, the protracted meeting which was to have begun at Glenwood this week, following on the heels of the county wide campaign, has been called off due to the prevalence of scarlet fever in Glenwood. The meeting was to have been a union affair in which all of the congregations in the town were to participate. It was planned to hold it at the U. P. church. Dr. Wheeler, who has been conducting a revival at Milroy, was to be in charge. He was to be assisted by Dr. A. W. Jamieson of the U. P. church here. Miss Parshall of the Biederwolf party was to assist also.

The Glenwood school was closed a few days ago because of scarlet fever in the community.

Plans Are Being Perfected For Demonstration (And Meeting in Tabernacle Wednesday Night.

Although it had not been learned this afternoon what speaker would be furnished for the Republican meeting to follow the torch light procession here Wednesday night, it is still intended to carry out the original intention. A committee went to Indianapolis in an effort to obtain a speaker.

After the demonstration Tuesday night the Republicans will make their efforts to make the big parade and meeting here Saturday, which will be addressed by James E. Watson, the largest one of the local campaign. A meeting of Republicans will be held at headquarters this evening at seven-thirty o'clock to complete arrangements for the Saturday night event.

The crowd here Saturday night is to be augmented by a delegation from Shelbyville. The downstate boosters are bragging that they will bring a crowd of five hundred people. They will come up on regular train, which arrives a few minutes before seven o'clock, and return on a special train Saturday night.

BLUE RIDGE MAN PAYS HEAVY FINE

Harley Gillespie is Arrested on Three Charges But He Pleads Guilty to Only Two.

OTHER ONE IS DISMISSED

Chief of Police Manlove was called to Blue Ridge Monday morning to place Harley Gillespie, a well known young man of that town, under arrest on three different charges, says the Shelbyville Democrat. The affidavits were filed in the court of Justice Webb by E. W. McDaniel, the well known attorney of this city, and the trouble started because Gillespie persisted in hunting on Mrs. Emma McDaniel's farm when he had been warned repeatedly to keep off the premises.

The charges were for profanity and trespass and for hunting without a permit on another person's premises. He pleaded guilty to the first two charges and paid fines and costs amounting to $25.55. The other charge will be withheld pending his good behavior.

Gillespie grew very troublesome to the owner of the farm and on last Saturday cursed her when she ordered him from the place.

Chief Manlove made the trip to Blue Ridge with James Hicks in the latter's touring car.

Biederwolf's Attempts to Close Meeting Foiled by Some One Going Forward.

MANY CONVERSIONS THEN

Little Son is Example to His Father And Leads Him Down the Sawdust Path.

Amid scenes that will live long in memory of the two thousand or more people who were there, the county-wide evangelistic campaign closed at the tabernacle last evening with a farewell meeting.

People who will look back on the five happy weeks at the tabernacle lingered last night for one last look. They loathed to leave the place of trials and tribulations, the scene of many joys and triumphs, the situation which has resulted in approximately two hundred and fifty souls deciding for Christ in five weeks.

The meeting last night was the most enjoyable one which has been held, and coming at the close as it did, it carried with it an atmosphere of sweet sadness—a gladness that Dr. Biederwolf and his party can go on with meetings in the future, a sadness that they have to leave Rushville.

The meeting last night was more than a farewell, it was an inspiration to others to go forward. There was a number of people last night who decided for the Christian life. Several times Dr. Biederwolf started to close the meeting, but each time was halted by the appearance of some one on the sawdust path which leads to the altar down in front. It was almost midnight before the lights in the tabernacle were extinguished.

There was one family which was especially happy last night for every member decided for Christ. And it was the little son that led this family to the front. The boy was seated in the back part of the building. Faithfully and industriously his youthful friends worked and argued with him to take a stand for Christ. Finally he was persuaded. In the meantime personal workers had been attempting to convince the father, the mother being willing to go down if her husband did. When the boy walked down the sawdust trail, the father could not constrain himself, and he stepped into the aisle, followed by his wife, and the whole family was saved. There were few dry eyes among the people who saw that little undercurrent of human interest and knew what it all meant.

Roy Jones, for whose conversion the personal workers and ministers have been working for days, took advantage of the last opportunity last night to decide for a new life. He asked to make a statement from the platform, and the privilege was granted him. He said that he knew many Christian people had been praying for him and that he appreciated it sincerely. He expressed great gratitude for the help and kindness which had Continued on Page 2.

CONNECTS RYAN WITH PLOTTERS

President of Ironworkers Had Conference With McManigal.

TESTIMONY OF A BOOKKEEPER

Government Introduces Evidence in Trial of Alleged Dynamiters Showing That Chief Destroyer Was Clothed With President Ryan at a Time When Explosions Were of Common Occurrence.

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—At the trial in the federal court evidence directly connecting President Ryan of the iron workers with Orrie McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, and with the disbursement of $1,000 per month to men engaged in dynamiting, was given when B. J. Cook, bookkeeper in the headquarters here from July, 1910, to February, 1911, took the stand as a witness. According to his story McManigal visited headquarters on Aug. 25, 1910, and was in conference with Ryan for several hours, Ryan coming out of the room one time and asking if there were any telegrams or letters for McManigal.

Cook also told of a telegram received at headquarters in December, 1910, from H. W. Legleitner, indicted, of Pittsburgh, asking McManigal if he could come to headquarters, to which the latter replied, "Come on; will meet you."

When Legleitner reached headquarters he was carrying the odd-shaped telescope used to carry a ten-quart can of nitroglycerine.

"McManigal was a changed man after the Times building was blown up," said Cook. He confined himself in his private office, reading newspaper clippings.

He later went to Ballagh, Neb., Cook said, dressed in a freakish manner, to see his brother, J. B. McNamara, who was hiding at the home of Howard McNabb, a brother-in-law.

Cook told of the "thousand a month" emergency fund from which the government alleges McNamara checked from to pay for dynamitings. He said this account was under the supervision of Frank M. Ryan.

The witness identified the little blue check book used by J. J. McNamara in checking from his personal account in the Columbia National bank. It was from this account that Frank C. Webb, indicted member of the executive board, of New York, received a check for $200 and that Herbert S. Hockin and Howard McNabb received checks. The government alleges that this account was used to pay for some of the dynamitings.

Fall in Bathtub Rendered Her Helpless to Save Herself.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 29.—That Mrs. Clarence Ryan, who was found dead in her bathtub in West Lafayette Saturday, met her death in a most unusual manner, was disclosed at the coroner's investigation. It was supposed she died of heart failure, but the fact has been revealed that when she stepped into the tub she slipped and fell, striking her eye on one of the metal faucets, and this rendering her unconscious, she fell face downward in ten inches of water and was drowned.

Evansville Man Fixing Things to Put City on Cash Basis.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 29.—Adolph Melzer, wealthy retired soap manufacturer, has presented to Mayor Hellman and the city council a certificate of deposit for $1,000, which is to remain in bank for 250 years and draw compound interest. At the end of that time it will amount to $19,956,400. The money is to be used two and a half centuries from now for public improvements, which he believes the city will be unable to make from its own money because of debts.

First Degree Murder Charged.

Greenfield, Ind., Oct. 29.—The grand jury returned an indictment for murder in the first degree against Joseph Hicks. Five years ago Hicks shot and killed Oscar Martin while the latter was playing cards in a poolroom at Shirley. He was arrested at Cincinnati two weeks ago.

Fought Duel on Street.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 29.—Tony Danko and Steve Homister fought a duel with stilettos in the streets here and both were badly injured. Danko probably fatally. The trouble is alleged to have occurred over Danko's attention to Homister's niece.

Grover Ensley Acquitted.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 29.—Grover Ensley of Garrett has been acquitted of the murder of Edward McLeod on Aug. 10. Ensley charged McLeod with being intimate with Mrs. Ensley. The state failed to prove that the shooting was premeditated.

Hebron Postoffice Robbed.

Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 29.—Burglars forced an entrance to the postoffice at Hebron, dynamited the safe and obtained $10 in cash and $150 worth of stamps and money order blanks.

Lyde's Drug Store. Rushville.

Mrs. Paul Wehling, 316 Smith St., Peoria, Ill., had kidney and bladder trouble, with terrible backache and pain across the hips. Just imagine her condition. She further says: "I was also very nervous, had headache and dizzy spells, and was fast getting worse when I took Foley Kidney Pills, and now all my troubles are cured. Foley Kidney Pills have done so much for me I shall always recommend them." F. B. Johnson & Co.

NEW LAWS TO COVER ELECTION CAMPAIGNS

Remedial Legislation Suggested By Inquiry.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Though no program of legislation has yet been decided on by the Clapp committee of the senate, members have several reforms in mind. Among the recommendations that they will make are the following:

Prohibition of contributions by any "trust," large or small, or any corporation to presidential, senatorial or congressional campaign funds.

Prohibition of large "individual" contributions to such campaigns from any officer or director of any corporation.

Publication of campaign receipts by all candidates, including presidential, to occur four times during and thirty or sixty days after the nomination or primary campaign and during or after the general election.

Limitation of the size of contributions from individuals—some senators favor $10,000 as the limit, others favor $5,000.

Publication of how every cent in any campaign was spent—the names of recipients and detailed explanations of the purposes—twice during the primary and general election campaigns.

Prison sentences as well as heavy fines for campaign officials who break the law.

Adjustment of the law so as to cover both the convention and primary nominating systems for presidential and all other candidates.

To impose on each presidential candidate knowledge of the amount and sources of his financial support by requiring the candidate's certification to the statement of his finances.

To require not only national campaign managers, but state, federal and even ward or precinct managers to report the money received or spent.

Strict accounting of all campaign promises of appointments or political rewards.

One member of the committee has suggested the possibility of the creation of a federal bureau of elections to supervise the administration of a federal corrupt practice act.

Canadian Soldiers in Wreck.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—A Chicago flyer on the Canadian Pacific collided head-on at Streetsville Junction, twenty-two miles west of here, with a troop train of volunteers returning from a sham fight at Milton. The first car behind the engine of the troop train was telescoped and every soldier aboard was injured, two being killed and thirty-six injured, four or five fatally. No one was injured on the express train.

Carthage.

Miss Pearle Kizer, who underwent an operation on the foot, was brought home from the Deaconess hospital last week and returned Saturday.

Rev. Charles O. Whitely, of Newburg, Oregon, came last Tuesday and has been a great help in the tabernacle meetings.

Miss Nell McCorkle held open house Monday afternoon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Stanley, who leave Thursday for China.

Miss Lou Hill of Greenfield was home over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bundy and children of near Greenfield, attended the afternoon meeting at the tabernacle Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Bundy.

Mrs. John Wall and Mrs. Tom Wall, of Marion, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Coffin.

Mr and Mrs. Herbert Beher, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cross and Edmund Gartin went to Sheridan Saturday and returned Sunday evening.

Lowell Henley, who has been ill for the past week, is much improved.

O. P. Overman of Knightstown is visiting Jesse Henley and family and Frank Overman and family.

Howard Kizer was at home from Indianapolis Sunday.

Leonard Ruby was at home from Purdue from Friday until Monday.

Miss Myrtle Taylor and Miss Bessie Addison, of Arlington, were guests of Miss Mabel Gutschel of Lewisville Saturday and Sunday.

Sunday proved to be a good day for Carthage. At the meeting Saturday night Mr. Bursk announced there would be prayer meeting Sunday morning from seven to eight o'clock, union service at eleven o'clock, meeting at three o'clock and at seven-thirty. These meetings were well attended, especially the evening service.

Rev. Hamilton and workers deserve much praise for the good that they did during the four weeks. Fifty-seven were brought to Jesus Sunday night, adjourning after twelve o'clock. Homer Welch, the singing evangelist, left Monday morning for his home at Grove City, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton spent Monday in Rushville, as did many other Carthage people.

Mrs. T. A. Town, 107 6th street, Watertown, S. D., writes: "My four children are subject to hard colds and I always use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound with splendid results. Some time ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and the doctor prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and it soon overcame the la grippe. I can always depend upon Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and am sure of good results." F. B. Johnson & Co.

Taft as a Politician.

It is sometimes said of President Taft, as if it were a reproach, that he is no politician. This or that failure to estimate popular temper, to be skilful in cajolery of some prevailing whim, is assigned as a reason for dejection.

And yet, is this a year when people are looking for skillful politicians? Are they not rather out of date in the popular mind? Don't they rather want men of the business type, who devote themselves to efficiency without grand stand plays?

So it seems to many people. One of the principal bases of the Bull Moose campaign is denunciation of politicians and bosses. And yet, is there a more adroit politician than the Big Bull Moose? Is there a man in the country who looks more at questions from a non-political business view-point than Mr. Taft?

Mr. Taft has a way of going ahead with what he believes to be right regardless of popular clamor. From the older view-point, that is not good politics. The politician of yesterday always kept his ear very close to the ground. If he heard a passing step, he thought it was the armies of the people, and he took to his heels for the tall timber.

A man of that type gets little done. He is so intent on the veering currents of opinion, that he cannot stick to any one program long enough so that the voters become interested in it.

Mr. Taft has accomplished a large volume of liberal and useful legislation. He is not a good advertiser. He needs a press agent. But simply by saying nothing and sawing wood, he has got a lot of good things done, devoting a lot of time to studying the needs of the people, and very little to canvassing with politicians.

Is not that the type of man you pick when you have any big job to be done?

As to War Veterans.

Every old soldier will remember the attitude of the Democratic party toward the veterans of the Civil War when it was last in power. Hundreds of bills granting pensions to deserving soldiers were angrily vetoed by President Cleveland, and no consideration whatever was given to the fact that the old soldiers, now decreasing in number by reason of deaths, are facing an old age which makes it impossible for them to labor.

The Democratic party came into power in the house of representatives two years ago. It insisted upon the abolition of all the pension agencies in the United States and so the pension appropriation bill was not passed until August 15th, more than ten million dollars being withheld from hundreds of thousands of aged, infirm and needy survivors of the Civil War and their dependents for nearly two months.

In order that pensioners might get their money, even after long delay, the senate was finally compelled to yield to the Democratic policy of abolishing pension agencies. President Taft was forced to sign the bill for the same reason. The attitude of the veterans toward this Democratic blow at the pension system is shown in a resolution adopted by the Grand Army of the Republic at the national encampment at Toledo. This declares that the abolition of the agencies would work inconvenience and hardship to the aged and infirm survivors of the Civil War and their dependents. There is no doubt that if a Democratic president should be elected, together with a Democratic congress, further legislation adverse to the old soldiers would be adopted.

Speaking of "straw ballots," St. Louis has just taken one on a somewhat extensive scale. The Republican

Sam Sanderson Says:

That the good old days of torch light parades are not over yet.

City Club has just taken a complete poll of the city and it shows that there are 146,419 voters of whom 85,580 are for Taft for President. This gives a clear Republican lead of some 25,000 votes in St. Louis at this time and the ranks are steadily gaining.

The British Board of Trade report places the average wages of the American bricklayer at from $26.77 to $30.42, while the average in England is but from $9.12 to $9.85. Not much use in low free trade prices on that basis.

A manufacturer from a neighboring city, while here, was asked by a Rushville attorney if the laboring men in his city were satisfied.

"It's just a question as to which job they take," was the terse way he answered the question.

During the last Democratic administration the working man could buy a pretty good suit of clothes for $8, but he did not have the price. Under Republican rule since the worker has been buying $25 suits of clothes—and he has the price.

The farmer should reflect that when the factory is closed by free trade, not merely does he lose a market for his products, but he must meet the competition of a lot of men who will go to farming.

During the last Democratic administration, Mr. Cleveland had constantly to borrow money, pay bankers a rake-off for it, and pay interest on the debt. Now Uncle Sam is a lender rather than a borrower.

The New York World says it is not the custom of the country to turn down an administration in a year of great prosperity, and this year will be no exception to the rule.

The roll of "assistant Democrats" is not pleasant one for life-long members of the Republican party.

Editorial Notes

Two bands and a drum corps make a pretty good crowd at that.

We'll wager a good pawpaw that there is one place in the United States where no Democratic votes will be cast.

Guess again!

Our fathers were willing to give up homes and families and go to war for the country, but the modern business man cannot be expected to spend 15 minutes a day studying up on the issues of good government.

Current events classes are being conducted in many schools but they won't be popular until they take up the football games.

It is predicted that there will be a social revolution, but it is not likely to go so far as to get the red flag men to go to work.

In house cleaning time, man's better half finds solid comfort in sitting on the pantry shelf to eat her meals on the refrigerator.

The Supreme Court judges had the ball scores brought to their desks, but so far none of the churches are having them read from the pulpit.

The Socialists and Prohibitionist candidates show unfamiliarity with the game admitting their opponents may carry several states.

All the parties are going to encourage agriculture, and they will probably do it by providing marble post offices for the farmers to get their mail.

and entrances to the building were black with humanity clear out into the streets even after the Rushville crowd was seated. The stage was crowded with people and others stood in every available place in the theater. When James E. Watson appeared on the stage, he was given a rousing greeting such as is seldom ever accorded a public man, even when he is a candidate for office. During his speech he was frequently interrupted by cheers and deafening applause.

It was a typical "Jim" Watson speech. The eloquent Indian was at his best. It was a crowd of his home folks principally and he seemed to realize that they had come back to his own. People were there not only from Shelbyville and Rushville but from many other points in eastern Indiana.

And "Jim" sent them all away smiling and happy, resolved to mark the eagle once more when they go into the election booths one week from next Tuesday.

Rounded periods of eloquence, appeals of the same judgment of men and shafts of sarcasm that would penetrate the skin of rhinoceros followed in rapid and easy succession as only Watson can make them follow, and a conservative, well regulated ted crowd was turned into an applauding, cheering throng before the meeting was half over.

Mr. Watson devoted the first part, in reality the greater part, to the discussion of the tariff, the same old issue, and the real issue which divides the Republican and Democratic parties. He reviewed the conditions of the Cleveland panic and compared wages and conditions then with now, and the audience, which was composed largely of men, showed its approval of his sentiments, by applauding vigorously every few minutes.

"I am in favor of progress," continued Mr. Watson. "But some people don't know the difference between progress and motion. There is too much muckraking in this country, too much calling a man a liar, crook, and thief who doesn't agree with you."

"Pass prosperity around," cries Mr. Beveridge. How? How can we pass it around more than it has been passed. We cannot make people equal physically, intellectually, or morally by statute, because God has willed otherwise. We can only give them equal opportunities to develop their own characters.

Mr. Beveridge in one speech promises to despoil the Egyptians to get for the common people yachts and automobiles, palaces by the sea, purple and fine linen and retinues of servants. If everyone gets these who will act as the servants?

"The twang on the heartstring of envy! That is what is affecting us, when a democrat gets it he thinks it is political economy. When a bull moosers gets it he thinks it is inspiration from heaven and commences to sing 'Onward Christian Soldier.'

"Child labor. How beautifully Mr. Beveridge talks about it. And yet we have had a child labor law in Indiana for thirty years. All states have them but the cotton states of the south. There is not one case of child labor in Indiana and I defy Mr. Beveridge to produce one. We passed a child labor law in the District of Columbia, a model. We put it through while Mr. Beveridge was away making speeches or resting in his palace by the sea.

"He talks of free books. We have them. Any man who too poor to buy can get them, and clothing for his children too. I am not in favor of buying school books for my neighbor who has four times as much money as I have. Are you?"

"Mr. Beveridge raves about the road tax. He wants it paid in instead of worked out. And he would destroy the Republican party which has so honored him for a chance on the road tax law.

"I am in favor of woman's suffrage if they are sure they want to vote. But I am not in favor of the immoral woman in the city leading her forces to the polls while the old gray haired mother in the country remains by her fireside. If the women vote, then they must all vote. Everyone who can vote should exercise that privilege."

In closing, for the hour was growing late, Mr. Watson reviewed briefly the Republican national convention, explaining only the Indiana and Texas delegates-at-large cases. He referred briefly to all of the trust magnates who are contributing to Roosevelt's campaign and showed that they were inspired to do because of their desire to defeat Pres. Taft who had prosecuted them.

He spoke of the let-the-people-rule party, the party which began with the bosses and went down to the people instead of vice versa. He recalled that Ed Lee had been appointed State chairman, he in turn had appointed the district chairman who selected the county chairman.

PARTY SCATTERED OVER THREE STATES

Dr. Biederwolf And Three Workers go to Grand Rapids, Mich., For Week's Meeting.

THEIR SERVICES ARE DONATED

The Biederwolf evangelistic party will be scattered over three States by tomorrow. Dr. Biederwolf, his assistants, E. C. Miller, William McEwan, choir leader and soloist and James Heaton, second tenor, left today for Grand Rapids, Mich., for a week's meeting at a Rescue mission. They will begin tomorrow night. The services of the party will be donated to the work in the slums of the city. All of the collections that are taken will be turned back to the mission.

Don Cochran, the custodian of the tabernacle, will leave tomorrow for Hamilton, O., where a five weeks' campaign will be started a week from tonight. He will oversee the work of building the tabernacle which will seat 5,000 people. Miss Parshall, who intended to take part in the Glenwood meetings, went to Spiceland for a week's rest at the sanitarium there.

AMUSEMENTS

The Princess offers a Biograph feature drama "With the Enemy's Help" for the first picture tonight. It is a story taken from life and shows Mary Pickford in the leading part. "Her adopted Father" is the title of a powerful Essanay drama. Thursday night, the great base ball drama, featuring Rube Marquard the famous New York pitcher, will be shown. The scenes are laid at the Polo grounds in New York city and it is said to be a remarkable production.

The Palace has an added attraction tonight in Mile La Belle, the famous mentalist. Mile La Belle on her last appearance here created a furor by her wonderful exhibitions of mind reading and is said to have improved greatly since then. Besides Mile La Belle the usual two reels of pictures will be shown. "The Diamond Path" is a Rex drama featuring Marion Leonard. "The Sheriff and the Girl" is a Nestor western picture. The Mentalist will give a special entertainment tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock for women only and will appear at the regular performance Wednesday night.

The Rev. Oldham, pastor of the Milroy Christian church is recovering from a bad case of blood poison following the removal of a growth from his nose, and was able to attend the church convention here yesterday.

beyond any question if Theodore Roosevelt had not divided the Republican party when he failed to receive the presidential nomination.

The party was good enough for Roosevelt until Taft was nominated. Now he is trying to wreck it. His present position is a combination of selfish ambition and personal spite.

Why should you desert the party which has done so much for the country and thus given you a share in prosperity and progress?

been shown to him in leading him into a new life.

The musical program was a long and varied one last night, and was so popular with the audience that the musical program did not close until 8:45 o'clock. The choir was augmented by people who have been singing in all of the dozen or more tributary meetings over the county so that the choir box was almost full.

The evangelists and their singers from the county meetings were present, as were people from all the churches. McEwan and Houston, who sang Sunday night, sang another duet last night, and the applause was so insistent that they had to sing again in order to satisfy the crowd. The visiting evangelistic singers formed a double quartet which sang very beautifully.

Dr. Biederwolf was presented with $977, the total amount raised Sunday for his services here. It represented the free will offering of the people of Rushville as a token of esteem and gratitude.

Dr. Biederwolf thanked Rushville people copiously. He heaped praise on all the people, organizations and institutions that had given so kindly and generously of their time and energy to the undertaking. He thanked the choir, the ushers, the doorkeepers, the band, the orchestra, the persons who donated flowers Mothers Day, the contributor to the offering and all who helped. He also included the press.

Although noticeably fatigued because of the day of work and strain, Dr. Biederwolf preached an inspiring sermon, urging the new converts to be true to the vows they had taken, and appealing to the church people to put their arms about them and help them.

Dr. Biederwolf preached a sermon to three kinds of people. The first were to those who had come out for God during these meetings. He advised them to study the Bible, not to forget to pray, to solve all doubts by giving God the benefit of the doubt and to join some church. He admonished the church people to take care of these converts and to see that they were not led astray by their example. The third sermon was to those who had not made any decision yet, and at his close, there occurred those scenes of intense interest.

SO MUCH MONEY.

Muncie Press: It looks a little strange that the Wall street friends of Mr. Beveridge felt in 1904 that it was going to take so much money to elect Senator Beveridge. "And" the senator says he kept the money several weeks and then returned it, with a gushing letter of thanks. It seems that enough of the money contributed by Perkins and the rest had reached the state committee direct to make the use of the personal contributions unnecessary.

CAN'T CORNER SUPPLY.

Muncie Press: No political party can corner the supply of human sympathy or the demand for social justice. Any party that pretends to be doing this is trying to fool the people. The past quarter of a century has witnessed the enactment of hundreds of laws which represent the spirit of social justice, and these have largely been the fruit of statesmanship in states dominated by the Republican party.

FOR PROTECTION AND PROSPERITY.

Your vote on Tuesday, November 5, for the Republican ticket is a vote for protection and prosperity. It is also a vote for the preservation of constitutional government.

A vote for the Democratic ticket is a vote for free trade, with legislation that will place farm products on the free list and will adversely affect practically every industry in the United States.

A vote for the Third Term ticket is worse than a wasted vote. Roosevelt cannot possibly be elected and a vote for him aids in the election of the Democratic candidate.

M'VAY WRITES OF WATSON MEET

Former Rushville Man, Now in Richmond, Says Large Audience There Was Enthusiastic.

RUDOLPH LEEDS HIES AWAY

Says Watson's Speech Was by Far Best of Any of Campaign in Wayne.

Will McVay, formerly of Rushville but now a resident of Richmond, writes the Daily Republican of the Watson meeting in Richmond last Saturday night. He says that the immense coliseum in Richmond was filled and that the audience was enthusiastic.

The report of the meeting published in two Bull Moose Richmond newspapers is so biased and prejudiced that no part of the speech is given. The report in each newspaper is merely a tirade against Watson. But with all the Richmond newspapers could do to lessen the crowd with the predictions that few people would want to hear Watson, and with their attacks on him, the meeting was a success, according to Mr. McVay, who writes:

James E. Watson spoke to an enthusiastic audience here Saturday night, the coliseum being filled and many standing.

He gave them facts and unanswerable arguments straight from the shoulder. He talked for two hours and a half, and when at the end of two hours he said he would stop, a chorus of voices said, "go on, Jim." Landis spoke here Friday night and dealt in glittering generalities, sarcasm and abuse of Taft, but gave no valid reasons for voting for Teddy.

Watson's speech was by far the best during the campaign, and will do lots of good. As to the two speeches, Watson's worst enemy would have to admit that he had the best of it on a vote of 100 to 1.

Watson paid his respect to Rudolph, the millionaire kindergarten editor, but that famous chairman of the "B. M." in this district had left, with his hired hand, a short time before.

He also called the turn on an A. Jeremiah Beveridge, who has been allowing the understanding to go over the country that he worked his way through college, by saying it was not true, as they were there at the same time, and that Beveridge's father father paid his way, just as his father paid for him.

Watson said at the close that he guessed he might be safe on the streets of Richmond even at night.

He received an ovation on his first appearance, that any man would be proud of, and it must have warmed his heart. It showed mighty clearly that he has a host of good, loyal friends here regardless of what the two papers here try to make it appear.

Mrs. Jerusha Nadal of Milroy was notified Saturday of last week of the birth of an eight pound boy to her son, Prof. T. A. Nadal and wife at their home in Olivette, Michigan, and feels greatly honored at being called grandmother.

WHAT A DEMOCRATIC VICTORY WOULD MEAN.

The abolition of the protective tariff or the substitution for it of a tariff for revenue only, as proposed by the Democratic platform, would plunge this country into the most widespread industrial depression we have yet seen, and THIS DEPRESSION WOULD CONTINUE FOR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD.

From Theodore Roosevelt's Confession of Faith delivered at Chicago, August 6, 1912, before the Progressive national convention.

How to SELL Things That Are "FOR SALE"

Write your "For Sale" ad SIMPLY stating ever detail about the article that you would want an ad to give if you were anxious to buy something of the kind yourself. Give a little thought to the "selling points" about the article, and put THEM into your ad. Then run the ad MORE THAN ONCE, if that is necessary. It may or may not be.

HOW TO OUTDO A BUSINESS RIVAL

Get a Conjurer to Cast a Spell Over Him.

THAT'S WHAT THIS WOMAN DID

Now She Hales the Reputed Sorceress Into Court, Alleging That She Paid Something More Than $1,000 for Various Incantations in the Belief That They Would Work to Confusion of Husband's More Prosperous Rivals.

New York, Oct. 23.—For the action of the grand jury Mrs. Margaret Seibel of West New York, N. J., was held, on complaint of Mrs. Ida Schumann, the wife of an undertaker in the community, who charges her with having practiced conjuration, witchcraft, sorcery and enchantment for the purpose of booming Mr. Schumann's business and incidentally making a few dollars for herself.

The scheme by which Mrs. Seibel proposed to give prosperity to the undertaking business of Mr. Schumann was unique. The business, although it was of ten years' standing, had not been lucrative. Mr. Schumann got funerals all right, but it seemed to his wife that something always went wrong and gradually the other undertakers forged ahead. She told Mrs. Seibel about it, she says, and the latter, who is the buxom wife of a laborer, assured her that she had powers that speedily would put Mr. Schumann among the best known undertakers of West New York.

Mrs. Schumann says she fell in with Mrs. Seibel's plan, which had two phases. First she was to get $5 for each spell she cast over any rival undertaker, and gave assurance, says Mrs. Schumann, that immediately she had burned the mystic powder and said the fatal words the business of that particular undertaker would fall away. In the second phase Mrs. Seibel was to work a spell which had no particular reference to the other undertakers, but was to bring good luck to Mrs. Schumann. This spell was to be cast only once a month and for the same price, $5 a spell. Moreover, she was to be paid always in $1 bills and they must be new and crisp.

Mrs. Schumann says she has paid Mrs. Seibel something more than $1,000 for incantations. Mrs. Seibel appeared before Recorder Brewer with her counsel, and for her he waived examination when the complaint had been read. She refused to discuss the matter after these proceedings.

ANOTHER SUIT

Indianapolis Paper on Colonel's List For Action in Libel.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 23.—"I am feeling fine, and it does seem good to get back into the old channels again," was Colonel Roosevelt's vigorous declaration to the group of newspapermen gathered in his library last night for the first formal interview since the doctors have permitted him to give since he left the hospital. His appearance bore out his words. "The broken ill seems to have knitted," he explained, "and I can breathe without pain. But it hurts me to take a deep breath. I couldn't climb any hills."

A new development in the action which Colonel Roosevelt purposes to take against libelous publications was his declaration that his attorneys had been instructed to bring suit against "Clean Politics," a periodical which is published at Indianapolis. The damages asked for are nominal, being $1,000. This and the suit recently brought against "Iron Ore," a Michigan paper, are similar, according to the colonel, and were projected at the same time.

Taft's Travels.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The regular Tuesday cabinet meeting was held at 9 o'clock this morning, two hours earlier than usual, to permit President Taft to leave Washington for New York about noon. Mr. Taft will be the guest of Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee. The president's brothers, H. W. and C. P. Taft, will have dinner with him tonight. Tomorrow he will attend the launching of the new battleship New York at the navy yard and will make a speech at the workmen's dinner at the yard following the launching. He will return to Washington early Thursday morning.

Indiana Crude Oil at $1.02.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 23.—After eight years of waiting and predicting the price of Indiana crude oil has finally reached $1 a barrel. The price of North Lima has advanced 5 cents a barrel and South Lima and Indiana 2 cents. Mercer oil also went up 3 cents. Prices now are: North Lima, $1.07; South Lima, $1.02; Indiana, $1.02; and Mercer $1.16. Indiana crude oil was last at the dollar mark in November, 1904.

Domestic Row Due to Politics. Muncie, Ind., Oct. 23.—Because he and his wife are of opposite political beliefs, Martin Doyle, who was sent to jail for assault and battery, declares his wife "framed up" the charge. Doyle says his wife is a suffragist.

JAMES S. SHERMAN

Vice President of United States Has Suffered a Serious Relapse.

SHERMAN'S RELAPSE MAY PROVE SERIOUS

The Vice President's Condition Considered Critical.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 23.—It is admitted by his personal friends, for the first time since he was stricken with illness last spring and was compelled to abandon his official duties in Washington, that Vice President Sherman is in an extremely critical condition, and that the outcome cannot at this time be forecasted. Dr. F. H. Beck, the Sherman family physician, stated that the vice president was resting more comfortably than at any time during the preceding twenty-four hours, but there was nothing in the doctor's statement to indicate he regarded his patient's condition as measurably improved since the relapse of a few days ago or that strong hope for the ultimate recovery of Mr. Sherman was warranted.

The physicians have agreed a surgical operation in the vice president's case is imperative, but on account of his weakened condition and the impossibility of administering an anesthetic, an operation cannot be performed at present. The operation, it is believed, is necessary because of the presence of gall stones. Mr. Sherman is also suffering from a heart difficulty, induced by an affection of the kidneys.

New York Thieves Posing as Workmen Get Access to Safe.

New York, Oct. 23.—Three men gained admission to the branch office of the Prudential Life Insurance company at 248 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, by pretending to be employees of a telephone company, and having got within reach of the open safe, tied and gagged Miss Alice Brenneis, the cashier, and then ran away, without leaving the police much to work on. Their loot aggregated between $300 and $400.

TURKS BOTTLED UP BY BULGARS

Moslems Must Either Fight or Surrender.

THEIR FIGHTING SPIRIT GONE

Confirmed Reports Have It That the Disorganized Turkish Army Is Panicked at Continued Successes of Armies of Allies Approaching From the North, and Are in No Condition to Support the Banner of Islam.

London, Oct. 23.—Within sixty miles of Constantinople, the Bulgarian army has flung out across the Oriental railroad that runs into the Ottoman capital, blown up a bridge at Tokerkesshen and destroyed all communication along the road to Adrianople.

It remains for the Turks, now either to fight or surrender. There are some 160,000 of them surrounded by the fighters of the little state in the country between Lule Burgas and Baba Eski, captured by the Bulgars on Saturday.

Not only has their retreat along the railroad been cut off, but Adrianople with its garrison of 60,000 will fall within a few days, according to the opinions of the strategists who have followed this war.

Turkish Troops Demoralized.

The retreat of that garrison in case success again crowns the Bulgarian arms would naturally be in the direction of Demotika to the south, but the crafty Bulgarian generals, foreseeing this, have cut off the Turks from that hope and the garrison would seem to be bottled as neatly as one could wish.

The correspondents at the Bulgarian headquarters say that the heavy losses suffered by the Turks in the fighting round about Adrianople has demoralized the Turks.

The Ottoman is not the fighting man that he used to be, this hand-to-hand fighting on the part of a foe that heretofore he has regarded scornfully and the bewildering precision with which the Bulgarian generals have moved their pawns across the board of a hostile country has broken his spirit. There is a confirmed report that one whole regiment of Turks lay down their arms without firing a shot, at the approach of Bulgarian troops.

The Serbians, too, seem to meet continued success. The Turks, so it is being shouted through Belgrade, are withdrawing their forces from north-west Albania and are retreating toward Monastir.

The Serbs Pushing Along.

A hundred little Arnaut villages are said to have fallen to the Serbians, and the Turkish losses at the fierce battle of Koumanovo grow with the receipt of every dispatch. The Serbs are said to have captured the town of Mitrovitza, the northern terminus of the railroad that runs into Salonika, for which the Serbians are struggling. It also is asserted that the Turkish army has fallen back in confusion from Uskub. Televo has surrendered. The Turks delivered their arms to the Serbians. They kept some 200 rifles back, which the Serbs later seized.

The Bulgarian column operating with the Serbians in the western part of the peninsula has occupied Istip and threatens to cut off the retreat of the Turks. The Serbians say that the Turks killed Uskub so hastily that they lifted one another fighting for places on wagons and railroad cars.

There is no word from the Montenegrins hurrying away in the recent outbreak against the Greeks say they are within striking distance of Salonika.

AN EARLY HEARING

Newspaper Appeal Advanced by the Supreme Court.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The supreme court has advanced the cases brought by New York publishers to test the constitutionality of the postal legislation in the last appropriation bill affecting ownership, circulation and advertising matter in newspapers. The arguments will be heard on the merits of the case on Dec. 2. There are two cases, but they will be joined, one involving an injunction which was sought by the Morning Telegraph and the other by the New York Journal of Commerce, both of which were denied by the federal court. The petitions asked that the department of justice officers and the postoffice department officers and agents be enjoined from putting the law into effect.

When young Dozier applied for the wedding license he said: "My father unmercifully whipped Essie because she loved me. I am going to make reparation by marrying her. Father won't whip her then."

Whelan Charged With Murder.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 23.—Superintendent Gorman of the police department left for Falmouth, Ky., to bring back Samuel Whelan, under arrest there for the murder of Arthur Saunders, colored, in this city, a few weeks ago. Whelan is a white man. At the time of the killing it was said Saunders had been stabbed by a white man. Whelan denies the charge.

Philadelphia Greets Wilson Warmly. Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—Woodrow Wilson spoke to 26,000 voters within a radius of eighteen miles of Philadelphia's city hall Monday, and wound up last night with the largest meeting of the campaign in this city, when he addressed 17,000 persons in the convention hall.

GENERAL MENOCAL

Candidate for Presidency of Cuba Subject of Death Plot.

CUBAN CAMPAIGN IS FULL OF EXCITEMENT

Plot for Assassination of Conservative Candidate.

Havana, Oct. 23.—Discovery has been made of a plot to assassinate Gen. Menocal, Conservative candidate for the presidency. Captain Aincarte and some other police officers of Zaratista inclinations were ambushed at a point where General Menocal, riding at the head of a procession, was expected to pass. An unexpected change in the route defeated the conspirators.

General Zayas, the present vice president and Liberal candidate for president, with several Zaratista leaders, had several conferences and the vice president and his colleagues protested to the government heads against the retention of General Monteaiguide in command of the Cuban armed forces and demanded the reinstatement of Senor Aguirre, the Havana chief of police, whom President Gomez, under pressure from General Menocal, has suspended and replaced with General Mendiola of the regular army.

President Gomez and the Liberal leaders are greatly worried over the report that General Zayas threatens the Liberals with withdrawing his candidacy on election day, Nov. 1, unless General Monteaiguide is removed from the army and Aguirre is reinstated as the Havana chief of police.

Trouble Is Expected.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Though the situation in Cuba for the moment seems less threatening, officials here are apprehensive as to what may happen after next Friday, when the national elections take place. It is expected that the party declared the loser will not accept the verdict at the polls and will promote disorder on the ground that they were discriminated against in the registration and counting of the votes.

NOW HAS DEFENDER

Essie Carter Marries Son of Man Who So Brutally Whipped Her.

Macan, Ga., Oct. 23.—Declaring that he wanted to make reparation for his father's cruelty in whipping the girl, Vogt O. Dozier, son of W. S. Dozier, clerk of the superior court at Dawson, has secured a license to marry Essie Carter, and the two will be married today. Young Dozier has been infatuated with the girl for some time. The elder Dozier tried to separate them, but failed. Then he with several friends dragged the Carter girl from her home in Dawson, stripped her naked and whipped her unmercifully. The girl came near dying from the beating and Dozier's act was bitterly condemned. Recently Essie Carter brought suit in the United States court for $25,000 damages against the elder Dozier, who is wealthy.

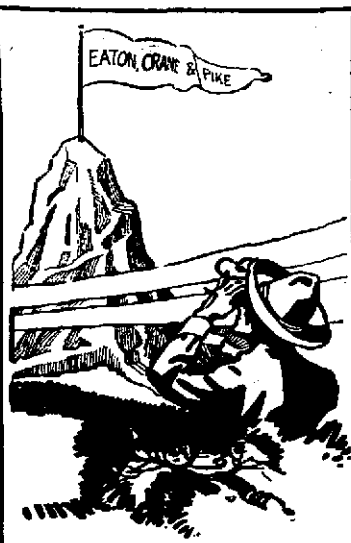

When young Dozier applied for the wedding license he said: "My father unmercifully whipped Essie because she loved me. I am going to make reparation by marrying her. Father won't whip her then."

SHELBYVILLE TO SEND DELEGATION

run back through Shelbyville to Columbus since the latter city is a terminal point where the train is made up.

The sporting blood of the Republicans of Shelbyville and Shelby county is up. They wish to show, as one Republican from there said last night, that they can make as good a showing as this city and county can. James E. Watson has a host of friends and admirers there who are anxious to make the trip here a big success.

That Shelbyville will most likely do that is demonstrated by the manner in which they carried out the meeting there last night. Republicans here were saying today that they would not be outdone in giving a reception to the Shelbyville crowd after that which was given the local people last night. It is expected that a number of automobile owners will decorate their machines and go to the depot to escort the visitors to the city.

More details about the torch light parades this week will be worked out tonight and announced tomorrow. Arrangements will be made for the place for the parade to form.

HE DESERVES IT.

Muncie Press: The meanest thing that can be said about the farmer, wage earner or business man who votes for a change this year is that he deserves to get it. But his neighbors who do a wiser thing ought not to have to share his punishment.

DEATH RATE IN CITY INCREASES

State Health Board Report Shows
6.2 Per Cent. Per Thousand
For 1912.

COUNTY INCREASE 4.3 PER CENT

Present Population of Rushville Estimated at 4,963, And County At 19,387.

The State Board of Health has issued its monthly bulletin for August, which indicates that the health of the city and county for not only this period was not so good, but also for a corresponding year.

The death rate in the county for the year ending August, 1912, fifteen percent per thousand and the rate for a corresponding period preceeding was 10.7, an increase of 4.3 to the thousand people.

The death in the city for the year ending last August was 21.1 per cent. for the preceeding period immediately before it, 14.9, an increase of 6.2 per cent per thousand.

The bulletin gives Rush county an estimated population of 19,387 for 1912. The total number of deaths reported in the county in August were fifteen, and in August last year there were twenty-two reported. In July of this year there were thirty-three deaths, a falling off in a month of eighteen.

The total number of deaths reported in the county in 1912 up to an including the last day of August was 195, and for the same period in 1911 the total was 139, an increase of 56 in 1912.

During the month of August three children between one and four years of age, one person between fifteen and nineteen years of age and five over sixty-five of age passed to the great beyond. In the city there was one death in August between the ages of one and four years, and none in any other important ages mentioned.

In the county there were ten deaths from important causes in August. There was one from pulmonary tuberculosis, one from measles, one from whooping cough, one from lobar bronchial pneumonia, one from external causes, two from cancer and three from diarrhea and enteritis, the victims being under two years of age.

In the city of Rushville there were only four deaths from important causes. One was from measles, one from whooping cough, one from cancer and one from internal causes.

The population of Rushville for 1912 is estimated at 4,963. The total deaths for August this year were six and for the preceeding month, eight. In 1911 there were nine deaths. The total deaths reported in the city in 1912 up to the last day of August was seventy, and for a corresponding period in the previous forty-nine, an increase this year of twenty-one deaths.

The August death rate per thousand in the city was 14.2 per cent, in July of the same year, 18.9, and in August, 1911, 21.5. The death rate in the city for 1912 until August 31, was 21.1, and for the same period in 1911, 14.9.

VICE-PRESIDENT BETTER

Physicians Hopeful After Sherman Passes Healthful Night.

Utica, N. Y., October 29.—Vice-President Sherman passed a restful night and Dr. Peck said this morning that his patient was in better condition than he had been at any time during the last four days. He could not say that the present critical danger had passed, or give any assurance as to what might follow in the case of one so weakened by and suffering with the complications surrounding Mr. Sherman. However, he felt some encouragement.

admits it. Even our Bull Moose friends do."

Mr. Ralston discussed State issues briefly. He declared the Democratic administration had enacted laws for the benefit and protection of the child and the workaday man.

"And let me pause in this discussion of State issues," said the Democratic nominee, "to call to the attention of your old soldiers that the most wholesome law ever enacted for the benefit of the veterans of the war was passed by the congress due to the steadfast and unfaltering support of a Democratic house. If the Democratic party had its way, every old soldier under the flag would receive a dollar a day pension."

"I do not mean to intimate that the old soldier should vote the Democratic ticket. But I do mean that considering what the Democratic party has done for the old soldier, he should consider the intent and past record of the party in this regard fairly and without prejudice as any other man would do and then go into the booth and vote his conviction."

Mr. Ralston came to the defense of the present State administration and declared that it deserved a vote of confidence in the light of its achievements. He pointed out that the Democrats had to maintain two more State institutions now than their Republicans had at an additional annual expense of $175,000. He recalled that the State administration had paid off some of the State debt.

He launched again into the discussion of national issues with the Democratic proverb: "The power to tax is the power to destroy."

"I hope to see the time," continued the nominee, "when no taxes will have to be levied."

Mr. Ralston talked to a crowd of from one thousand to twelve hundred people. There were not many people in from the county, most of the audience being composed of Bull Moosers, Republicans and Democrats of the city.

Mr. Ralston arrived at 1:10 o'clock over the I. & C. and was met at the station by a delegation of citizens. He was taken to a hotel in an automobile to enjoy a light lunch, and then went directly to the tabernacle for the meeting. He was introduced by Lieut. Gov. Hall.

The Rushville concert band, the Arlington band and a drum corps from Raleigh furnished music for the meeting.
